MEETING TO FORM CHEST SET FOR 8 P.M.

City, County Ready, Awaiting Vaccine

Shots For Tots Could Be On Short Notice

Inoculation Plans Made For Friday Had To Be Junked

Organizations to administer the Salk polio "shots" to district school children — both city and county—were marking time today, fully manned and equipped. Everything but the vaccine, that is.

It was emphasized that the inoculations cannot start on their original schedule Friday. The new starting date cannot be set until the arrival time of the vaccine is determined.

Dr. Ned B. Griner made the announcement for the setup formed to administer the "shots" to children in the first two grades of Circleville schools. The "completely ready" signal for Pickaway County came from Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner.

Dr. Griner is chairman of a Pickaway County Medical Society committee organized to prepare the city schools program.

IT SEEMED likely that the highly-rated vaccine for the school children will not arrive here for at least a week. State Health Director Dr. Ralph Dwork told The Herald Tuesday that delivery may be as long as 10 days away.

Dr. Griner stressed the prompt work of many individuals in setting up the city polio "shots" organization. For the county, the work will be supervised directly out of Dr. Blackburn's office.

"Since we still do not have the vaccine," Dr. Griner explained, "we can't do anything else but just coast along until it arrives, or until we get certain word when it will arrive."

Uncertainty in the matter makes it difficult for doctors who have volunteered to help the program. Dr. Griner pointed out that they are kept, in effect, on a day-by-day "alert", and consequently have to adjust their business schedules constantly.

He added, however, that the inoculations could be given the school children on 24-hours notice.

"For example, if it turns out that we'll have the vaccine next Monday—and I don't know whether we will or not—we could give the shots Tuesday," he said.

To administer the vaccine to the city school children, four teams of doctors have been organized — each to be assisted by two nurses and a third helper to handle the paper work and coordinating duties.

Hargus Lake Bids To Be Taken Soon

State Natural Resources Director Sets Sights On Month Of June

Bidding on final details in the construction of Hargus Lake, planned east of Circleville, may take place in June, according to A. W. Marion, director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

"All the land has been purchased," Marion said. "We completed the final arrangements with Dewey C. and Lucille S. Black recently and that was the final purchase."

However, a delay apparently developed as the result of tests taken two weeks ago. Marion pointed out that tests drillings taken at that time have caused a re-investigation by the engineering firm of Vought, Ivers and Seman, of Cincinnati, designers of the project.

"The tests show that the sod spillway might erode,' Marion said. "We may have to excavate the spillway much deeper than had originally been planned. Then, we will probably have to cover with gravel and clay."

ANOTHER CHANGE was noted by Marion. He said that a direct-type spillway through the dam would be necessary, instead of the elbow type. Also, a replacement will be needed for the valve housing in the control tower.

"We have all the money we will need to finish the project," Marion said. 'All we can do now is wait for the completed specifications."

Therefore, from all indications, "Lake Folly", which has in the past been used as a political football, may score a touchdown.

The project originally started back in 1949. At first, the lake was scheduled to cover 161 acres. Latest reports have reduced this to 147 acres with a 47-foot depth, after bickering which went as low as 60 acres.

At one time, Marion estimated the cost of the project at nearly $500,000. That figure has since been cut to below $200,000.

IN 1953, the Ohio Legislature appropriated $150,000 for completion of the project. This appropriation runs out this coming June 30.

James Rhodes, state auditor and unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1954, once stated that more than $280,000 had been spent on the project "in one way or another since 1949."

Sportsmen in Pickaway County have long yearned for a good fishing and recreational site in the county. Their hopes had been up high when the Hargus Lake project was first introduced.

Delays and excuses marred the picture continuously, with sides being taken and vastly conflicting statistics used by each side. Marion's latest remarks, it is hoped by local sportsmen, will finally bring the project into reality.

Adams Chided By Sparkman On News Leak

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said today he has concluded Sherman Adams "simply cannot back up" an implication that leaks of government documents are traceable to holdovers from Democratic administrations.

Sparkman said he has waited more than two weeks for Adams, President Eisenhower's chief assistant, to reply to his request that Adams "say definitely" whether leaks were traced to Democrats.

Adams wrote Sparkman early this month he was "striving" to meet the "special problem of leaks that arises when a new administration is obliged to operate largely with personnel held over from previous administrations."

Sparkman wrote back asking Adams to name the persons who supplied the Yalta papers to the New York Times ahead of their general release and two other government documents to the Wall Street Journal. If Adams didn't want to disclose the names, Sparkman wrote, "I wonder if you are willing to say definitely that they are Democrats."

Two days ago Secretary of State Dulles named Asst. Secretary Carl W. McCardle, hired by Dulles, as the man who gave the Yalta papers to the New York Times.

Hawaii Sending Orchids To College

DELAWARE (AP)—Classmates of Ohio Wesleyan freshman Kenneth Hazemoto sent him home for Christmas, and his Hawaiian family and friends are sending back their thanks—with flowers.

The orchids, about 200 pounds of them, are being flown in from Honolulu.

Hazemoto, 20, said the orchids are mainly intended for a Beta Sigma Tau fraternity dance Saturday night.

Ohio Betting Law Faces Court Test

Masterson claimed the wagering violated a state constitutional ban against lotteries.

The educators protested an $11 million cut in budgets of six state supported universities. They had asked $76,532,306 and received $65,763,826 in budget allowance.

John Baker, president of Ohio University, said European universities, with the assurance of proper financing, were attracting quality students away from America.

Formosa Strait Truce Seen New U.S. Aim

Special Mission Sent To Talk With Chiang; British Influence Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States was reported today to have sent a hurry-up mission to Formosa to test Nationalist sentiment for drawing a cease-fire line down the middle of the embattled Formosa Strait.

The cease-fire line brought speculation that this would mean abandonment by the U. S. of intentions to defend the off-mainland islands of Quemoy and Matsu. The Eisenhower administration never has specifically stated what it plans to do in regard to these two tiny islands in case the Chinese Reds start invasions there.

A major factor credited in top congressional circles with influencing the mission was a reported stepup in Russia's deliveries of late type jet planes to Red China.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Ast. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson left yesterday on a 10-day trip to the Nationalist Chinese capital of Taipei. Their plane took off within two hours of the announcement they would go. A scheduled Radford visit to Europe was called off.

Pair Nabbed In Lima For Bank Holdup

LIMA (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced the arrest here of a man and woman in connection with the $2,100 robbery of the Bendena, Kan., State Bank yesterday.

W. G. Simon, special agent, identified the couple as Herbert C. Griffith, 25, who was discharged from the Air Force at Lincoln, Neb., Monday, and Mrs. Alice Evelyn Green, 23, of Lincoln.

The FBI said an undetermined amount of money was found in Mrs. Green's possession when the couple was picked up today.

Simon said Mrs. Green formerly was employed by a finance company in Lincoln. Griffith was identified as a native of Vaughnsville, Ohio, who claims residence at Fredericktown, Ohio.

Simon said complaints charging Griffith and Mrs. Green with the robbery were filed late yesterday before the U. S. commissioner in Kansas City, Kas.

Bond of $10,000 each has been recommended by the U. S. attorney in Topeka, he added.

The Bendena bank was robbed by an unmasked man who carried a sawed-off shotgun. The bandit escaped in a motorcar.

Ike's Veto Facing Postal Pay Boost

8.2 Pct. Hike Given Approval By House; Vote Follows Parties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The likelihood of a presidential veto today overhung a House vote to boost the pay of the nation's 500,000 postal workers an average of 8.2 per cent.

President Eisenhower last year refused to sign a 7 per cent postal pay increase voted by Congress on the ground it was not accompanied by a revenue-raising hike in postal rates.

His veto came after Congress adjourned and there was no opportunity to vote on overriding it.

The Senate last month flaunted the President's implied threat to veto any postal pay hike of over 7.6 per cent, voting for 10 per cent.

The House yesterday followed suit and approved an 82. per cent increase which would cost some $171 million a year. The Senate bill is estimated to cost $220 million.

THE 24-189 House vote for the most part followed party lines, with Republicans lining up behind the President and the Democrats behind the mailmen.

Seventeen Democrats and 22 Republicans split company with their party colleagues.

The vote was 52 short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto if the President fires one back at Congress.

Unless the Senate accepts the House figure, which appears unlikely, the measure will go to a conference committee for compromise somewhere between the two figures.

Asian Parley OKs 2 New Proposals

Palestine, Dutch Stands Aired; Coexistence Issue Is Debated

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — The Asian-African conference's political committee drove to quick decisions on the Palestine and Dutch New Guinea questions today. But storms loomed over proposals for peaceful coexistence between communism and other social systems.

The No. 1 conference committee made relatively smooth progress on the Arab-sponsored, Red Chinese - backed resolution supporting the Palestine Arabs. It then approved a watered-down motion asking a quick solution of Indonesia's claims to Dutch-held Western New Guinea.

The New Guinea resolution backed the Indonesia stand in the dispute and urged the Netherlands government to reopen negotiations with the Jakarta government. The committee also approved an Egyptian resolution urging France to grant independence to Tunisia, Morocco and Algeria.

The watered-down motion on West New Guinea was threshed out after some delegations balked at an original Indonesian resolution. The critics charged it constituted a condemnation of the U. N.

INDONESIA'S resolution called on the conference to express "regrets" that the last U. N. General Assembly "failed to assist the participants (Indonesia and the Netherlands) in a peaceful solution of their dispute." The Assembly refused to support Indonesia's claim for independence of West New Guinea from the Netherlands.

The Indonesian proposal finally was referred to a nine-nation subcommittee to seek an agreed resolution after Pakistan's Prime Minister Mohammed Ali asserted, "we should not condemn the U. N."

Indian Prime Minister Nehru charged that Ali was "trying to shield some big powers," but the Pakistani was supported in his defense of the U. N. by the delegates from Turkey, Lebanon, Ceylon, Jordan and Iraq.

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai launched the debate on coexistence with a statement that the "peaceful coexistence of countries with different social systems can be realized." He and Nehru both brought up the issue.

Several delegates were reported prepared to fighting against any resolution that did not contain guarantees against aggression by international communism.

Among these was Ceylon's Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala. Conference sources said he would call on Chou to repudiate the Cominform (communism's international arm) to show "if he really believes in peaceful coexistence."

ARAB LEADERS considered the Palestine stand a victory for their cause. They charged that Israel, which was not invited to the conference, has refused to comply with resolutions which would require her to repatriate Arab refugees, provide compensation for those who lost their lands, internationalize Jerusalem and cede some territory to the Arabs under a partition plan.

Chou, who has been courting Arab friendship at the conference, aided in drafting the resolution.

Gathering Will Indicate Size Of New Group

Red Cross Stand, Important Factor, Still Uncertain

Despite gray and dripping skies through most of the day, leaders of the Community Chest organization expressed confidence today that a meeting set for 8 p. m. in Pickaway County courthouse will draw a representative turnout.

Plans to set up a Community Chest in this district — covering both Circleville and the rest of the county—are already nailed down and moving ahead. However, the Thursday night meeting is highly important because it was scheduled to form a nucleus organization and to select the first group of leaders.

Workers for the Community Chest—which, actually, will probably be known as the Community Fund—are also anxious to have a large attendance Thursday night because it is well known that the new Chest organization faces some degree of opposition. Not all of the local fund-raising agencies have agreed to join the new group, under which all the district's fund-raising drives would be merged into one annual campaign.

The attitude of the Pickaway County Red Cross Chapter is still uncertain, though favorably inclined. Red Cross support could go far toward getting the Chest organization off to an enthusiastic start. The first Chest drive is tentatively planned for next Fall.

WILLIAM AMMER, president of the local Red Cross unit, said his organization is permitted to "give it a try", but only "on conditions. Although he declined to specify basis for the reservation, it was believed the Red Cross feels that at least one of the groups now willing to join the Chest setup is not eligible under the proposed constitution.

Critics of the Chest proposal have frequently charged that substandard organizations will try to "climb aboard" for a share of the annual distribution of funds, thus acting as a handicap on the whole effort. Other skeptics maintain that the Chest, at least through its first several years, will not be able to draw enough money to meet the needs of the participating organizations.

Nevertheless, and regardless of such claims, the Chest is already tagged for "full steam ahead." That announcement came some time ago from Ed Grigg, chairman of a steering committee which will lead the effort up to the meeting that starts at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Grigg said it was obvious that the public wants a Community Chest, and that an urgent need of one has long been evident.

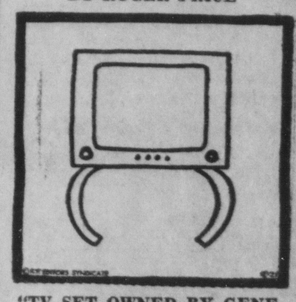
DROODLES

BY ROGER PRICE



"TV SET OWNED BY GENE AUTRY"

Christian Dior will probably criticise this Droodle because it shows legs. Who cares? I've refused to speak to him since he swiped the idea from me that girl's knees shouldn't be shown. Four years ago I surveyed American Business and estimated that the exposed knees of stenographers caused a yearly net loss in Executive thinking time equal to the National Income of Venezuela. I first estimated this figure by taking the amount of time I lose in this way and multiplying it by the number of American Executive. I got a figure that was triple the world Income. This wasn't scientific so I looked up the National Income of Venezuela and decided that was about right.

Special Mission Sent To Talk With Chiang; British Influence Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States was reported today to have sent a hurry-up mission to Formosa to test Nationalist sentiment for drawing a cease-fire line down the middle of the embattled Formosa Strait.

The cease-fire line brought speculation that this would mean abandonment by the U. S. of intentions to defend the off-mainland islands of Quemoy and Matsu. The Eisenhower administration never has specifically stated what it plans to do in regard to these two tiny islands in case the Chinese Reds start invasions there.

A major factor credited in top congressional circles with influencing the mission was a reported stepup in Russia's deliveries of late type jet planes to Red China.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Ast. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson left yesterday on a 10-day trip to the Nationalist Chinese capital of Taipei. Their plane took off within two hours of the announcement they would go. A scheduled Radford visit to Europe was called off.

IT WAS UNDERSTOOD intelligence reports indicate the Soviets recently have increased shipments of jets to the Chinese Reds. Some of these were said to be of the latest types comparable to the best U. S. planes.

It is the understanding in Congress that none of these planes yet has shown up at a series of air bases being rushed to com-

Pair Nabbed In Lima For Bank Holdup

LIMA (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced the arrest here of a man and woman in connection with the $2,100 robbery of the Bendena, Kan., State Bank yesterday.

W. G. Simon, special agent, identified the couple as Herbert C. Griffith, 25, who was discharged from the Air Force at Lincoln, Neb., Monday, and Mrs. Alice Evelyn Green, 23, of Lincoln.

The FBI said an undetermined amount of money was found in Mrs. Green's possession when the couple was picked up today.

Simon said Mrs. Green formerly was employed by a finance company in Lincoln. Griffith was identified as a native of Vaughnsville, Ohio, who claims residence at Fredericktown, Ohio.

Simon said complaints charging Griffith and Mrs. Green with the robbery were filed late yesterday before the U. S. commissioner in Kansas City, Kas.

Bond of $10,000 each has been recommended by the U. S. attorney in Topeka, he added.

The Bendena bank was robbed by an unmasked man who carried a sawed-off shotgun. The bandit escaped in a motorcar.

Financial problems and her ailing father prevented her going to college after graduation in 1939 from high school in New York City.

Ike's Veto Facing Postal Pay Boost

8.2 Pct. Hike Given Approval By House; Vote Follows Parties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The likelihood of a presidential veto today overhung a House vote to boost the pay of the nation's 500,000 postal workers an average of 8.2 per cent.

President Eisenhower last year refused to sign a 7 per cent postal pay increase voted by Congress on the ground it was not accompanied by a revenue-raising hike in postal rates.

His veto came after Congress adjourned and there was no opportunity to vote on overriding it.

The Senate last month flaunted the President's implied threat to veto any postal pay hike of over 7.6 per cent, voting for 10 per cent.

The House yesterday followed suit and approved an 82. per cent increase which would cost some $171 million a year. The Senate bill is estimated to cost $220 million.

THE 24-189 House vote for the most part followed party lines, with Republicans lining up behind the President and the Democrats behind the mailmen.

Seventeen Democrats and 22 Republicans split company with their party colleagues.

The vote was 52 short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto if the President fires one back at Congress.

Unless the Senate accepts the House figure, which appears unlikely, the measure will go to a conference committee for compromise somewhere between the two figures.

Asian Parley OKs 2 New Proposals

Palestine, Dutch Stands Aired; Coexistence Issue Is Debated

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — The Asian-African conference's political committee drove to quick decisions on the Palestine and Dutch New Guinea questions today. But storms loomed over proposals for peaceful coexistence between communism and other social systems.

The No. 1 conference committee made relatively smooth progress on the Arab-sponsored, Red Chinese - backed resolution supporting the Palestine Arabs. It then approved a watered-down motion asking a quick solution of Indonesia's claims to Dutch-held Western New Guinea.

The New Guinea resolution backed the Indonesia stand in the dispute and urged the Netherlands government to reopen negotiations with the Jakarta government. The committee also approved an Egyptian resolution urging France to grant independence to Tunisia, Morocco and Algeria.

The watered-down motion on West New Guinea was threshed out after some delegations balked at an original Indonesian resolution. The critics charged it constituted a condemnation of the U. N.

INDONESIA'S resolution called on the conference to express "regrets" that the last U. N. General Assembly "failed to assist the participants (Indonesia and the Netherlands) in a peaceful solution of their dispute." The Assembly refused to support Indonesia's claim for independence of West New Guinea from the Netherlands.

The Indonesian proposal finally was referred to a nine-nation subcommittee to seek an agreed resolution after Pakistan's Prime Minister Mohammed Ali asserted, "we should not condemn the U. N."

Indian Prime Minister Nehru charged that Ali was "trying to shield some big powers," but the Pakistani was supported in his defense of the U. N. by the delegates from Turkey, Lebanon, Ceylon, Jordan and Iraq.

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai launched the debate on coexistence with a statement that the "peaceful coexistence of countries with different social systems can be realized." He and Nehru both brought up the issue.

Several delegates were reported prepared to fighting against any resolution that did not contain guarantees against aggression by international communism.

Among these was Ceylon's Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala. Conference sources said he would call on Chou to repudiate the Cominform (communism's international arm) to show "if he really believes in peaceful coexistence."

ARAB LEADERS considered the Palestine stand a victory for their cause. They charged that Israel, which was not invited to the conference, has refused to comply with resolutions which would require her to repatriate Arab refugees, provide compensation for those who lost their lands, internationalize Jerusalem and cede some territory to the Arabs under a partition plan.

Chou, who has been courting Arab friendship at the conference, aided in drafting the resolution.

Gathering Will Indicate Size Of New Group

Red Cross Stand, Important Factor, Still Uncertain

Despite gray and dripping skies through most of the day, leaders of the Community Chest organization expressed confidence today that a meeting set for 8 p. m. in Pickaway County courthouse will draw a representative turnout.

Plans to set up a Community Chest in this district — covering both Circleville and the rest of the county—are already nailed down and moving ahead. However, the Thursday night meeting is highly important because it was scheduled to form a nucleus organization and to select the first group of leaders.

Workers for the Community Chest—which, actually, will probably be known as the Community Fund—are also anxious to have a large attendance Thursday night because it is well known that the new Chest organization faces some degree of opposition. Not all of the local fund-raising agencies have agreed to join the new group, under which all the district's fund-raising drives would be merged into one annual campaign.

The attitude of the Pickaway County Red Cross Chapter is still uncertain, though favorably inclined. Red Cross support could go far toward getting the Chest organization off to an enthusiastic start. The first Chest drive is tentatively planned for next Fall.

WILLIAM AMMER, president of the local Red Cross unit, said his organization is permitted to "give it a try", but only "on conditions. Although he declined to specify basis for the reservation, it was believed the Red Cross feels that at least one of the groups now willing to join the Chest setup is not eligible under the proposed constitution.

Critics of the Chest proposal have frequently charged that substandard organizations will try to "climb aboard" for a share of the annual distribution of funds, thus acting as a handicap on the whole effort. Other skeptics maintain that the Chest, at least through its first several years, will not be able to draw enough money to meet the needs of the participating organizations.

Nevertheless, and regardless of such claims, the Chest is already tagged for "full steam ahead." That announcement came some time ago from Ed Grigg, chairman of a steering committee which will lead the effort up to the meeting that starts at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Grigg said it was obvious that the public wants a Community Chest, and that an urgent need of one has long been evident.

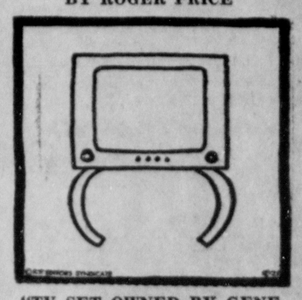
DROODLES

BY ROGER PRICE



"TV SET OWNED BY GENE AUTRY"

Christian Dior will probably criticise this Droodle because it shows legs. Who cares? I've refused to speak to him since he swiped the idea from me that girl's knees shouldn't be shown. Four years ago I surveyed American Business and estimated that the exposed knees of stenographers caused a yearly net loss in Executive thinking time equal to the National Income of Venezuela. I first estimated this figure by taking the amount of time I lose in this way and multiplying it by the number of American Executive. I got a figure that was triple the world Income. This wasn't scientific so I looked up the National Income of Venezuela and decided that was about right.

pletion by the Communist along the coast opposite Formosa and near Quemoy and Matsu.

"No crisis is involved," Secretary of State Dulles said as he left for a weekend vacation.

He said the Radford-Robertson trip to see Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek involved "normal maintenance of conact in a situation that is admittedly serious."

Assignment of Robertson and Radford to the Formosa mission was considered to be significant. It gave rise immediately to speculation that the United States had a bitter pill it wanted Chiang to swallow.

Boh Robertson and Radford are tough-minded anti-Communist batlers. They also are friendly with Chiang. Any proposition they might present would get a more significant hearing from Chiang than if it came from some others.

The Robertson-Radford mission appeared to liplomats as an inherent concession to British calls for a less rigid U. S. policy toward Formosa, although the British were reportedly not notified of its precise purposes.

THE BRITISH are understood to be reluctantly ready to join with the United States in a guarantee that Formosa will be protected against any Communist attempt to take it by force. However, the British are said to want in return evacuation of the coastal islands of Quemoy and Matsu by Chiang's forces and an agreement to let the U. N. decide the future of Formosa.

With tension over the coastal islands thus eased and the U. N. studying Formosa's fate, the Chinese Reds would thus be faced with a cease-fire line between Formosa and the mainland.

The British obviously will move slowly in any proposed joint action until after May 26. That is the date of the British election.

Deer Creek Bridge 60 Per Cent Done

State Highway Department officials of Division 6, with headquarters in Delaware, said that construction of the new bridge spanning Deer Creek, on U.S. 22 in Williamsport, is 60 per cent complete.

The new continuous steel beam bridge will have a concrete deck and will be paved with asphaltic concrete.

The relocation of the new structure will eliminate a dangerous curve at the west approach. It will have four spans totaling 306 feet. A 3-foot sidewalk will be located on the south side, and a 1-foot, 6-inch safety curb will be on the north.

Bid price was $193,600.89 by contractor C. F. Replogle, of Circleville. Completion date has been set for next August 31.

1 Hour, 1 Minute Mobilizing Time For Guardsmen

One hour and one minute after the commander of Circleville's National Guard unit got the call from the State Patrol, at his home in Kingston, the local Guardsmen were standing in the E. Franklin St. Armory, "ready to move out."

That was the fast time disclosed today by Lt. Robert Shaw, public relations officer of Circleville's Company I, 166th National Guard Infantry, as officials statewide were studying Ohio's figures in the nationwide test alert.

The nationwide test, to "dry run" how fast the Guard could mobilize in sudden emergency, was called at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. Although some claim to have anticipated the date of the alert, the hour apparently was held a tight secret until the word was flashed in all directions by police authorities and other emergency agencies.

Company I is commanded by Lt. Homer F. Graves.

Graves received the call at his Kingston home at 6:49 p. m., and at 7:50 p. m. the Guardsmen were standing ready in the armory for any emergency duty. They remained mobilized until 10:30 p. m., engaging in armory training.

"THE TEST here was a tremendous success," Shaw reported for the company. "Commander Graves was very much pleased."

Special praise was directed to several employers whose men were suddenly called away from their jobs when the call came in the early evening. The public, Shaw said, "cooperated wholeheartedly."

Shaw also emphasized that the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, Circleville police, and the local telephone company, along with many others who helped out "alopg the line", shared in the success of the drill.

"They certainly came through fast when we needed them," Shaw said. "The community should be mighty proud of those who can do things like that."

Stormy Waters Seen Ahead For Ike's Foreign Aid Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's foreign aid program ran into stormy waters in Congress today, with Sens. Byrd (D-Va) and Potter (R-Mich) demanding elimination of direct economic assistance to U. S. Allies.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) proposed that the President's request for $3,530,000,000 in military and economic help for friendly nations be sliced below $3 billion.

The vigor of objections and some obvious lack of enthusiasm by some administration supporters appeared to spell trouble for the program Eisenhower said would be directed primarily at Asia.

Chairmen George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee showed disinclination to tackle the problem immediately. Each said he would let the other House act on it first.

Richards' proposal to delay final consideration of the measure until the Senate acts was supported by Reps. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) and Gordon (D-Ill), members of the House committee.

GORDON SAID he thinks the Senate will make "deep cuts" and he wants to avoid a "wide gap" between House and Senate bills.

But Rep. Morano (R-Conn), another committee member, said "we have an obligation to consider this measure, and we should go ahead with it, without waiting for the Senate."

Byrd, who long has urged government economy, said he is "opposed to starting another large program in Asia."

"In my judgment, the time has come to eliminate all economic aid to other countries except for a reasonable amount of 'point four' technical assistance to underdeveloped countries," he said.

"The administration had a carry-over of $10,900,000,000 in foreign aid funds at the start of this calendar year. Of this, $1,-800,000,000 represented direct economic aid, exclusive of defense support funds.

"With such a large carryover, there is no sense in authorizing more direct economic aid."

In a meesage to Congress yesterday, Eisenhower asked for $1,-717,000,000 in military assistance. He proposed $712½ million in economic aid, plus $1 billion in defense support funds. Of the economic aid funds, $172 million would finance continuance of the technical aid program.

Cancer Drive Leader Tells Fund Division

"Knowing where the money goes is the right of everyone who contributes to the American Cancer Society's 1955 Crusade".

That was the comment made today by Dr. J. A. Cunningham, chairman of this year's Cancer Crusade in Pickaway County. Dr. Cunningham's observation took on added significance in the light of plans for a public meeting Thursday night to organize a Community Chest.

Some critics of the present setup, under which all the fund-raising agencies operate independently, accuse the agencies of being too vague about their financial distributions.

Dr. Cunningham said his organization is anxious to give the public any and all details relating to the use of funds gathered for the fight against cancer, one of the world's foremost and most painful killers.

THE Cancer Crusade in this district will continue through the remainder of April. President Eisenhower has designated it as Cancer Control Month.

Dr. Cunningham revealed that 60 cents out of every dollar collected here will be retained in the area for local purposes, and to coordinate the district needs with state headquarters.

Another 25 percent will go for research grants to assist nearly 1,000 cancer investigators in 132 selected institutions. Each aspect of this research is part of an overall plan of attack on cancer.

Twelve percent of the money will be allocated to the Cancer Society's national office, while the final three percent will be used for medical grants to institutions and fellowships to individuals.

pletion by the Communist along the coast opposite Formosa and near Quemoy and Matsu.

"No crisis is involved," Secretary of State Dulles said as he left for a weekend vacation.

He said the Radford-Robertson trip to see Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek involved "normal maintenance of conact in a situation that is admittedly serious."

Assignment of Robertson and Radford to the Formosa mission was considered to be significant. It gave rise immediately to speculation that the United States had a bitter pill it wanted Chiang to swallow.

Boh Robertson and Radford are tough-minded anti-Communist batlers. They also are friendly with Chiang. Any proposition they might present would get a more significant hearing from Chiang than if it came from some others.

The Robertson-Radford mission appeared to liplomats as an inherent concession to British calls for a less rigid U. S. policy toward Formosa, although the British were reportedly not notified of its precise purposes.

THE BRITISH are understood to be reluctantly ready to join with the United States in a guarantee that Formosa will be protected against any Communist attempt to take it by force. However, the British are said to want in return evacuation of the coastal islands of Quemoy and Matsu by Chiang's forces and an agreement to let the U. N. decide the future of Formosa.

With tension over the coastal islands thus eased and the U. N. studying Formosa's fate, the Chinese Reds would thus be faced with a cease-fire line between Formosa and the mainland.

The British obviously will move slowly in any proposed joint action until after May 26. That is the date of the British election.

Deer Creek Bridge 60 Per Cent Done

State Highway Department officials of Division 6, with headquarters in Delaware, said that construction of the new bridge spanning Deer Creek, on U.S. 22 in Williamsport, is 60 per cent complete.

The new continuous steel beam bridge will have a concrete deck and will be paved with asphaltic concrete.

The relocation of the new structure will eliminate a dangerous curve at the west approach. It will have four spans totaling 306 feet. A 3-foot sidewalk will be located on the south side, and a 1-foot, 6-inch safety curb will be on the north.

Bid price was $193,600.89 by contractor C. F. Replogle, of Circleville. Completion date has been set for next August 31.

Local Boy Scout Wins Railroad Trip

Larry Justice, of Boy Scout Troop 52 of Pickaway County, won a special railroad trip as a top district salesman for selling Scout-O-Rama tickets.

He was one of 13 boys winning this trip. In addition, valuable prizes were awarded to the top four salesmen in the Central Ohio Council.

1 Hour, 1 Minute Mobilizing Time For Guardsmen

One hour and one minute after the commander of Circleville's National Guard unit got the call from the State Patrol, at his home in Kingston, the local Guardsmen were standing in the E. Franklin St. Armory, "ready to move out."

That was the fast time disclosed today by Lt. Robert Shaw, public relations officer of Circleville's Company I, 166th National Guard Infantry, as officials statewide were studying Ohio's figures in the nationwide test alert.

The nationwide test, to "dry run" how fast the Guard could mobilize in sudden emergency, was called at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. Although some claim to have anticipated the date of the alert, the hour apparently was held a tight secret until the word was flashed in all directions by police authorities and other emergency agencies.

Company I is commanded by Lt. Homer F. Graves.

Graves received the call at his Kingston home at 6:49 p. m., and at 7:50 p. m. the Guardsmen were standing ready in the armory for any emergency duty. They remained mobilized until 10:30 p. m., engaging in armory training.

* * *

"THE TEST here was a tremendous success," Shaw reported for the company. "Commander Graves was very much pleased."

Special praise was directed to several employers whose men were suddenly called away from their jobs when the call came in the early evening. The public, Shaw said, "cooperated wholeheartedly."

Shaw also emphasized that the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, Circleville police, and the local telephone company, along with many others who helped out "along the line", shared in the success of the drill.

"They certainly came through fast when we needed them," Shaw said. "The community should be mighty proud of those who can do things like that."

K Of P Lodges Set Saturday For Benefit

A benefit Fish Fry and Dance sponsored by the Knights of Pythias Lodges of Franklin, Madison and Pickaway counties, to aid physically handicapped boys and girls suffering from defects of speech, sight, and hearing, will be held Saturday evening at the K of P Hall, 697 S. High Street, Columbus.

This charity benefit is open to the public. Round and square dancing will feature the program.

This party is a local participation in the general welfare program conducted by the Grand Lodge of Ohio's youth and welfare commission. The Order recently established a clinic at Ohio State University to especially aid children with speech and hearing defects.

The committee in charge of the affair includes representatives of all the Lodges in the three county area, and is headed by Williard Ruoff of London.

Philos Lodge No. 64, of Circleville, is a member of 18th district which is sponsoring the event.

Girl Pencils Suicide Message In Sand

RIPLEY (AP)—A 14-year-old girl pencilled her message of love in the sand and then shot herself to death yesterday along the banks of the Ohio River.

Authorities said Carolyn Riddle, an eighth grade pupil, wrote:

"Can't live without you. Jerry, I love you so, I can't leave."

Stormy Waters Seen Ahead For Ike's Foreign Aid Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's foreign aid program ran into stormy waters in Congress today, with Sens. Byrd (D-Va) and Potter (R-Mich) demanding elimination of direct economic assistance to U. S. Allies.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) proposed that the President's request for $3,530,000,000 in military and economic help for friendly nations be sliced below $3 billion.

The vigor of objections and some obvious lack of enthusiasm by some administration supporters appeared to spell trouble for the program Eisenhower said would be directed primarily at Asia.

Chairmen George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee showed disinclination to tackle the problem immediately. Each said he would let the other House act on it first.

Richards' proposal to delay final consideration of the measure until the Senate acts was supported by Reps. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) and Gordon (D-Ill), members of the House committee.

GORDON SAID he thinks the Senate will make "deep cuts" and he wants to avoid a "wide gap" between House and Senate bills.

But Rep. Morano (R-Conn), another committee member, said "we have an obligation to consider this measure, and we should go ahead with it, without waiting for the Senate."

Byrd, who long has urged government economy, said he is "opposed to starting another large program in Asia."

"In my judgment, the time has come to eliminate all economic aid to other countries except for a reasonable amount of 'point four' technical assistance to underdeveloped countries," he said.

"The administration had a carry-over of $10,900,000,000 in foreign aid funds at the start of this calendar year. Of this, $1,-800,000,000 represented direct economic aid, exclusive of defense support funds.

"With such a large carryover, there is no sense in authorizing more direct economic aid."

In a measage to Congress yesterday, Eisenhower asked for $1,-717,000,000 in military assistance. He proposed $712½ million in economic aid, plus $1 billion in defense support funds. Of the economic aid funds, $172 million would finance continuance of the technical aid program.

Cancer Drive Leader Tells Fund Division

"Knowing where the money goes is the right of everyone who contributes to the American Cancer Society's 1955 Crusade".

That was the comment made today by Dr. J. A. Cunningham, chairman of this year's Cancer Crusade in Pickaway County. Dr. Cunningham's observation took on added significance in the light of plans for a public meeting Thursday night to organize a Community Chest.

Some critics of the present setup, under which all the fund-raising agencies operate independently, accuse the agencies of being too vague about their financial distributions.

Dr. Cunningham said his organization is anxious to give the public any and all details relating to the use of funds gathered for the fight against cancer, one of the world's foremost and most painful killers.

THE Cancer Crusade in this district will continue through the remainder of April. President Eisenhower has designated it as Cancer Control Month.

Dr. Cunningham revealed that 60 cents out of every dollar collected here will be retained in the area for local purposes, and to coordinate the district needs with state headquarters.

Another 25 percent will go for research grants to assist nearly 1,000 cancer investigators in 132 selected institutions. Each aspect of this research is part of an overall plan of attack on cancer.

Twelve percent of the money will be allocated to the Cancer Society's national office, while the final three percent will be used for medical grants to institutions and fellowships to individuals.

2 GE Employes Stockholders In Parent Firm

Eileen Garrett and Louise Thomas are the first two local employees at the General Electric plant here to become stockholders in the firm through an employes savings and stock bonus plan.

Both started participating in the plan in 1949. Although both left the employment of the company for a period and were later reemployed, they exercised their privilege of leaving the bonds with the company during the period of unemployment. Because they used this option they are now stockholders.

Under the plan, GE employees who buy U. S. Savings Bonds through payroll deductions and leave them on deposit with the company for a specified five-year period receive a bonus in GE stock equal to 15 per cent of the purchase price of the bonds. At the end of the five-year period, the employes receive their bonds and all full shares of stock accumulated by the 15 per cent bonus plus dividends on the stock for the five year period.

GE contributes the shares as an incentive for employes to make regular savings through purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

GE DIRECTORS and stockholders have been authorizing up to $4,500,000 a year for this bonus. Because of the increased participation in the plan, it is expected that a maximum of $7,500,000 per year will be authorized at the stockholders meeting being held later ths month.

At the end of 1954, 85 local employees had 213 shares of GE stock, valued more than $10,000, contingently credited to their account. The latest figures show that 139 local employees are now taking advantage of this savings plan.

EILEEN GARRETT, center, and Louise Thomas, right, are being shown the 1954 annual report of General Electric Co. by local plant manager E. G. Grigg. Both women have become stockholders in the firm through a special bonus plan.

2 GE Employes Stockholders In Parent Firm

Eileen Garrett and Louise Thomas are the first two local employees at the General Electric plant here to become stockholders in the firm through an employes savings and stock bonus plan.

Both started participating in the plan in 1949. Although both left the employment of the company for a period and were later reemployed, they exercised their privilege of leaving the bonds with the company during the period of unemployment. Because they used this option they are now stockholders.

Under the plan, GE employees who buy U. S. Savings Bonds through payroll deductions and leave them on deposit with the company for a specified five-year period receive a bonus in GE stock equal to 15 per cent of the purchase price of the bonds. At the end of the five-year period, the employes receive their bonds and all full shares of stock accumulated by the 15 per cent bonus plus dividends on the stock for the five year period.

GE contributes the shares as an incentive for employes to make regular savings through purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

GE DIRECTORS and stockholders have been authorizing up to $4,500,000 a year for this bonus. Because of the increased participation in the plan, it is expected that a maximum of $7,500,000 per year will be authorized at the stockholders meeting being held later ths month.

At the end of 1954, 85 local employees had 213 shares of GE stock, valued more than $10,000, contingently credited to their account. The latest figures show that 139 local employees are now taking advantage of this savings plan.

EILEEN GARRETT, center, and Louise Thomas, right, are being shown the 1954 annual report of General Electric Co. by local plant manager E. G. Grigg. Both women have become stockholders in the firm through a special bonus plan.

ROKs Ask U.N. Unit To Move

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's semi-official newspaper, the Korean Republic, has demanded that U.N. military command headquarters be moved from Japan to Korea.

"It is becoming increasingly clear that Japan is not an ally of the United States and cannot be depended upon if the Communists strike again in Korea or elsewhere in Asia," the Republic declared.

Pondering Jurors Must Stay Sober

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals has ruled that liquor drinking by jurors during a trial recess is not grounds for a mistrial unless they get drunk.

However, the court held that any drinking after the case has been submitted to jurors is grounds for a mistrial.

Oklahoma is constitutionally dry.

Roller Coaster Still Popular

NEW YORK (AP)—So far the Russians haven't claimed they invented the roller coaster.

If they ever do, they're going to have to fight Joe McKee, who at 67 is the acknowledged dean of the roller coaster industry.

"The first roller coaster in history was built in Pittsburgh in 1904," Joe recalled. "And I got started in the business as a carpenter the following year."

In 51 years some 600 roller coasters have been built throughout the world. Joe figures he has had a hand in designing or building about 300 himself—more than any other man.

"Only 18 men, all carpenters, have ever had anything to do with designing roller coasters," Joe said, "and there are only four now left alive. I'm the oldest.

"The roller coaster grew out of the old scenic railway. We had nothing to go by, so we operated by rule of thumb.

"The four of us have kept a few things about the business to ourselves. The Lord knows we struggled hard enough learning them. There never has been a graduate engineer connected with the roller coaster field."

McKee, now general superintendent of the Palisades N. J. amusement park, estimates he has ridden some 5,000 miles on roller coasters.

"The roller coaster has been my whole life," said Joe, who has shrewd twinkling eyes beneath a thatch of thick white hair. "I even met my wife Maggie on a roller coaster. That was back in 1909 in Cincinnati."

The older roller coasters were built on a simple figure eight pattern and cost only about $30,000. Because of the rising value of land the newer coasters now loop about like a pretzel. They average about a half mile in length and cost from $100,000 up. The cars on some coasters reach a peak speed of 56 miles an hour.

McKee, who often acts as a consultant on thrill rides, gets a bit steamed up whenever the safety of roller coasters is questioned.

"If you just sit down in the seat and stay there," he said, "you're far safer than if you were in an automobile. You can't get off the track, and you can't get hit from behind by another driver."

There are two roller coasters at the park McKee supervises—one regular size, the other a smaller one for kiddies. To Joes' great sorrow more and more teen-age boys and their girl friends are showing a preference for riding on the kiddie coaster.

"I can't understand this younger generation growing up now," sighed Joe. "Why in my day no young fellow would think of taking his best girl on a kiddie ride. He'd be looking for more thrills. I guess after 50 years in this business I still haven't learned what people want."

The old tunnel of love boat trips have died out in most amusement parks and been replaced by faster rides geared to the tempo of an age that dreams of rocket and space travel.

But McKee sees no immediate demise for the roller coaster, although fewer are now being built each decade.

"As long as there are amusement parks," he said stoutly, "the roller coaster will last. You can't have a park without a merry-go-round and a roller coaster."

Labor Dispute Peace Demanded

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Southern governors have demanded that unions and management take action by Saturday to end the 38-day-old railroad and telephone strikes now crippling commerce in 14 states.

Six governors and representatives of six others met here and adopted resolutions "insisting upon" arbitration of the Louisville & Nashville railroad dispute, a meeting in the Southern Bell Telephone Co. dispute and an immediate end to both strikes.

Both sides in the telephone dispute promptly accepted the governors' plan for a meeting in Atlanta Saturday.

Smog Is Blamed As Cancer Cause

PASADENA (AP) — Smog is the greatest single cause of lung cancer, says a top research scientist in the field of air pollution and its relation to public health.

"Atmospheric pollution holds the answer to lung cancer more than any other single agent," Dr. Paul Kotin, University of Southern California pathologist, told the National Air Pollution Symposium.

His connecting smog with lung cancer climaxes more than four years of experiments with thousands of animals under a U. S. Public Health Service grant. Dr. Kotin and his research team conducted the experiments at the USC medical school and the Los Angeles County General Hospital.

800 Planes Poised By Red Chinese

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Red China has 800 planes (500 of them jets) along the Fukien and Chekiang coast across the strait from Formosa, the China News says.

The paper, which has some sources inside the Nationalist Chinese government, said new types of Russian built planes were involved in the buildup.

It stated that a Nationalist air force patrol plane last week encountered but escaped from some Russian type jets believed to be either MIG17s or MIG19s. These are later models than the MIG15 which the Reds have in large numbers and which they used in the Korean War.

Einstein Conscience Forced Expression Of His Opinion

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of three articles on the late Dr. Albert Einstein, world-honored scientist.

By FRANCES LEWINE

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Albert Einstein said he was compelled by "a passionate sense of social justice and social responsibility" to take stands on issues far removed from the problems of theoretical physics and mathematics.

Einstein, who died Monday, made political statements that were widely disputed, many were misunderstood. But they all provided further clues to the human side of this great man.

It took courage at times for Einstein to continue his comments in the face of personal attacks by those who opposed him.

He spoke out against Nazis and Fascists, espoused the cause of Zionism and world government, rebelled against attacks on civil liberties and urged commutation of the death sentence for atomic spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg.

Einstein, born in Germany, had been a citizen of three countries. In his youth, he let his German citizenship lapse while he lived in Italy with his family. As a university student, he acquired Swiss citizenship and later, he became a naturalized citizen of the U. S.

Germany conferred honorary citizenship on its famous son when Einstein was appointed a professor at the Prussian Academy of Science in Berlin in 1914. But, with his usual concern over politics, Einstein waited until Germany became a republic in 1919 before he accepted this honor.

When the Nazis came to power, Einstein stood up against the persecution of his fellow Jews and later renounced his German citizenship. He said he would not set foot in Germany while Hitlerism prevailed.

For his outspoken attacks on the Nazis, Einstein was declared "an enemy of the state." He became a voluntary exile from Germany, which only a few years earlier had declared a national holiday to celebrate his 50th birthday in 1929.

On Oct. 9, 1933, Einstein sailed in secrecy from London because of threats on his life by the Nazis.

Einstein said he found "ideal working and living conditions" in America. When he became a naturalized citizen in 1940, he said he felt in America "the most valuable thing in life is possible—the development of the individual and his creative powers."

In the United States, he added, "human dignity has been developed to such a point that it would be impossible for people to endure life under a systenn which the individual is only a slave of the state."

Einstein cast his first ballot at Princeton's Borough Hall Nov. 6, 1940. He joined the New Jersey League of Independent Voters for FDR for a fourth term, saying "it would be very dangerous to change leadership now."

Until the rise of the Nazis, Einstein had been an ardent pacifist.

But in 1939, he issued a statement declaring that as an "active pacifist" he now believed war justifiable against "war - making brigands."

Einstein was wholeheartedly behind this country's war effort. In 1944 he donated the prized manuscript of his theory of relativity and an unpublished work to spur the sale of bonds for the fourth war bond drive.

Einstein was one of those instrumental in getting President Roosevelt to go ahead with the Manhattan District project for the development of the atom bomb.

Although it was Einstein's theories that paved the way for the release of atomic energy, Einstein did not work on the actual development of the A-bomb.

DEBT INCHES UPWARD

TREASURY Department is again singing the song that the federal government, so help it, cannot get by much longer under the permanent debt ceiling of $275 billion.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, leader of the anti-inflation forces in the Senate, answers that the government must make a clear showing of distress before he will budge an inch. He adamantly opposes a permanent increase in the ceiling and will agree to the granting of temporary relief only if there is no alternative.

Senator Byrd headed the ranks which granted a temporary debt ceiling boost to $281 billion. The ceiling will automatically revert to $275 billion on June 30 unless the temporary increase in the limit is extended by congressional action.

By midyear, says the Treasury, the debt will total $274 billion. But during the next six months expenditures are expected to exceed revenues by eight billion dollars, which would boost what the government owes higher than the temporary debt limit of $281 billion.

Pay increases for government employes and other outlays may boost the deficit higher than the Treasury's estimate. Or so Treasury officials say.

The government is approaching the hour of decision. Shall the debt be permitted to rise freely and without qualms? Or shall a stand be made near the present point and a beginning be made toward reducing the astronomical total? The latter is the theme on which the present administration came into office.

Tax reduction has been abandoned while the cost of government continues at near record levels. Military outlays may make a balanced budget impossible now, but if the debt continues to mount higher taxes in the future will be inescapable.

COME ON, JUPITER

RADIO WAVES from the planet Jupiter have been received by astronomers at Carnegie Institution, Washington, D. C.

Scientists say the waves appear to be short bursts of static much like those produced by thunderstorms on conventional radio receivers.

But being scientists, they will doubtless keep open minds, especially so since no radio sounds have ever been received from planets in our solar system before.

Scientists should examine the sounds forward and backward, put code experts on them and see if any sort of intelligble symbols can be discovered.

If they are radio signals, one or two theories might apply. Either the Jupiter men are highly intelligent, have heard about goings on down here and want to offer some advice; or they are a bunch of angry reds hurling capitalist warmonger epithets through space.

It is to be hoped the latter is not the case. One communist bloc in the universe is plenty.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The Bandung Conference is the assertion of race. It represents the assertion first of racial equality of the Asiatic and African peoples; in time will come the assertion of racial superiority.

Race is the most emotional, the most dynamic factor in human history. It is the sense of being "chosen." of being foremost, of being superior. Racial preservation is a powerful incentive not only for self-adoration as for hatred of others. Modern anthropologists tend to deny race as unscientific, as an inaccurate division of the human race.

Whether they are more correct than their forebears is not for me to say one way or the other, but race constantly asserts itself politically in the attitudes of peoples and it is race that is meeting at Bandung —yellow and brown and black, men who believe that they are equal or possibly superior because of their racial origins and of carefully nurtured traditions.

To the pigmented peoples, the so-called 'white'' folk of Western Europe are newcomers on the world scene who during the 18th and 19th centuries managed to turn ancient races into natives who lived in colonies. During those centuries, these races learned to hate the white man, to hate him as a racial inferior, a racial pavenu who had come into possession of their world.

Take Nehru as an example. This man culturally is an Englishman. The language he has used most of his life until he became the master of India was English. He lived most of the important years of his education in Western Europe, being educated at Harrow and Cambridge and reading law in the Inner Temple. He was closer to the socialistic trends of the West than to any influences in Asia until he joined Gandhi.

One would imagine that such a man would be British in sympathy and even affiliation. But he is not because of race. Racially he is a Hindu. Culture, self-interest, personal associations mean very little in the presence of race.

Mahatma Gandhi, who revived the peoples of India, racially complex to a strong sense of freedom, always took the position that he opposed race; yet every position he took increased sense of race among all the racial groups in Asia. K. R. Kripalani, discussing the relations of Gandhi and the great Indian poet, Tagore, wrote:

"Though Gandhi had become the spearhead of Indian nationalism and Tagore was looked upon as the prophet of internationalism, Gandhi's mission of liberation embraces the entire humanity, and Tagore's love of his country was as deep-rooted and as intense as Gandhi's. 'I am wedded to India,' says Gandhi, 'because I believe absolutely that she has a mission for the world. My religion has no geographical limits. I have a living faith in it, which will transcend even my love for India herself.' Again: 'For me, patriotism is the same as humanity. I am patriotic because I am human and humane. . .' ''

In Asia, patriotism and race are identical. That is why it had to be that as soon as freedom came to India, it had to split up. It had to become two countries, India and Pakistan, with Kashmir outside of each and the Pathans trying to organize a state of their own.

DIET AND HEALTH

Sore Throat and Cough, Symptoms of Bronchitis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FEW of us go through the year without a case of bronchitis. In fact, this is one of the most common diseases of the respiratory tract.

Usually, acute bronchitis follows a cold. Your windpipe and the large and medium-sized bronchi become inflamed. The bronchi are branches which spread from the windpipe like the branches of a tree and distribute air to your lungs.

Various Irritants

While various irritants, such as sand or household dust, may cause this inflammation, infection is usually to blame. A sore throat and a barking cough generally are the first symptoms. At the beginning, your cough will be painful because there is little expectoration at this stage.

After a day or two, your sputum will become more plentiful and your cough will become much easier. Acute bronchitis is seldom a serious disease, except for the very young or the very old when there is more chance of the smaller tubes becoming blocked with secretions. This could result in bronchopneumonia.

Take to Your Bed

The best thing to do is to go to bed and keep warm. Keep all the windows in the room closed. Remain in bed at least until two days after your temperature has returned to normal. A steam vaporizer will relieve the feeling of rawness in your chest. Hot saline gargles will help your throat.

Drink plenty of hot fruit drinks, as much as five pints a day. Your doctor probably will advise a cough mixture to relieve your cough. An alkaline expectorant may help you cough up more sputum.

Penicillin Prescription

If your case is severe, your doctor might prescribe penicillin which may be sprayed from an atomizer. Injections of penicillin also might help.

If your child is stricken with bronchitis, keep him isolated from the rest of the family. And wash your hands and face every time you leave the patient. Symptoms usually subside after a week and he'll probably be fully recovered within two weeks.

Chronic bronchitis is something else again, and I may have more to say about that later.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

What can I do for pinworms, and are they dangerous?

Answer: Pinworms are brought into the body probably by water or food. Treatment consists in the use of such drugs as methylene blue or similar substances given by mouth under the direction of a physician.

The fingernails should be cut short, underpants worn at night if there is itching about the opening of the rectum, and the hands washed before eating and after going to the toilet.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

ANDRUS was down on the walk a couple of yards from the steep steps when he all but ran into Barry Lofting. It disconcerted him. How long had Lofting been around, how much had he heard, seen—and why was he on foot?

Andrus asked, "Where's your car?" Lofting said it was over at the inn. "Some storm. I was afraid I'd get stuck. I'm going to stay at the inn for the week end anyhow." He made a movement to pass.

Andrus said, "There's no use your going into the house now; Susan's going to bed with a headache, and Regina feels miserable and doesn't want to see anyone. Come on back to the inn with me and I'll buy you a drink and give you the latest on our friend, Mr. Trout." The two men moved off into the storm.

Later that night David Redgate was shot.

The medical examiner, Parr, was the only other doctor who lived on the Hill. Parr's telephone rang at shortly after 11 o'clock. It was Amy Redgate, crying out in an anguished voice that she had just found her brother lying in a pool of blood and she couldn't get a pulse. "Hurry, doctor, hurry." Parr called the police, and grabbed a bag.

Redgate was sprawled on the floor of his study unconscious. Amy Redgate knelt beside him, tears channeling furrows in her weather-beaten cheeks. After a quick examination Parr was able to reassure her. Redgate wasn't dead, or in any immediate danger of dying. There was what appeared to be a gunshot wound in the right thigh.

The police arrived a few minutes later. The doctor was lifted to a bed in the surgery and, with Amy helping him, Parr went to work. So did officers Dupasse and Baker. Todhunter, who had drifted in with them, hovered on the sidelines.

Half an hour later they had the picture. Redgate had been shot through the open study window with a .22-caliber rifle. No attempt had been made to conceal or carry off the weapon. It was lying in snow-covered bushes close to the window where it had been flung. The rifle belonged to the Redgates. It had hung, with another rifle and two shotguns, on the wall of the little corridor leading to the doctor's waiting room.

Once Amy Redgate knew the brother she adored wasn't going to die, she tried to pull herself together. She said that at around 9 that night she had started down for the rental library on Charles street and had a blowout. There was no garage anywhere near and no phone. A passing motorist had finally helped her put the spare on, but instead of being out half an hour, she'd been away more like two.

Both the Redgates went hunting every year. It was the one vacation the doctor took. "We thought we might be able to get away soon, maybe by the eighth." Amy had had the guns apart and oiled them earlier in the week. They weren't loaded, of course, but the ammunition for them was in a carton on the chest beneath which they hung, ready for packing. The door to Redgate's professional quarters in the east wing was never locked until late. Someone had come in, taken the rifle down, slipped bullets into it, and then gone outside to the open window and pulled the trigger.

There were no footprints, but there wouldn't be. Todhunter made a footprint of his own and timed it; in exactly eight minutes it was completely covered with fresh snow.

David Redgate regained consciousness; he was exhausted from loss of blood and shock but able to talk. He knew precisely when he had been shot. He had come in at around half past 10 and after putting his bag away had gone into the study to read some new stuff on anti-biotics. Before he settled down he had opened the south window, as the room was close, and looked at the clock. The time was 10:40. It was as he was taking the pamphlets he wanted from the bookcase shelf that he had been shot. "Item of interest," he said drily. "A bullet feels like a blow from a fist."

The doctor couldn't think of any reason why anyone should have tried to kill him. He had no angry or disgruntled patients. His evening? After dinner he had worked for a while on a paper he was doing and at shortly before 9 he had gone over to the Wolf Hill Inn in response to a call from Regina Pelham's ex-husband, Henry Trout. He found Trout in bad shape, jittery and complaining of his heart. He was going back to New York that night and wanted something to put him on his feet. Redgate said, "It wasn't his heart, it was alcohol, and plenty of it. I advised him to lay off it for a while and left him some bromides."

Henry Trout was the last person the doctor had seen. Dupasse said, "You had no trouble with Mr. Trout, doctor? I mean, sometimes drunks—"

Redgate said quickly and curtly, "None."

Todhunter slipped away and used the doctor's phone. Henry Trout had already left the Wolf Hill inn. He had paid his bill after dinner, which had been served in his room at 7, but no one knew what time he went, except that it was before 10 o'clock; the chambermaid had done the room over then.

Todhunter hurried to the Pelham house. It was after 12 but there were lights on the first floor. He climbed the steep steps to the porch and rang the bell. A long wait, then a voice called, "Who is it?"

The voice was Regina Pelham's. Todhunter gave his name and Mrs. Pelham opened the door and let him in. He shook snow from his hat and coat in the vestibule. Hall and living room were empty. There was someone in the kitchen. China rattled distantly.

Todhunter said, "Is Mr. Trout here, Mrs. Pelham?"

"Henry?" Her fine eyes opened wide. "Why do you ask?"

Todhunter said in his murmuring voice, "Dr. Redgate was shot a little while ago."

Gripping a chair back, Regina gasped, "Is Dave—dead?"

Before Todhunter could speak, they were joined by Susan Dwight, who came running down the stairs, and Mrs. Casserly coming in from the kitchen. Both women were in robes and slippers. Todhunter told them what had happened. The effect on Susan Dwight and the nurse was almost as strong as on Regina Pelham—in fact, if anything, the nurse was the hardest hit. "No," she gasped, falling back into a chair, "not the doctor." Susan asked, "Is Dave badly hurt, Mr. Todhunter?"

"Badly enough," Todhunter said, "but not fatally. Now, about Mr. Trout—"

Regina Pelham said, "Henry went back to New York. He told me this afternoon that he was going, and said good-by. I believe he's leaving for the west coast tomorrow or the next day." No, he hadn't given any forwarding address, said he'd write.

"Were you home all evening, Mrs. Pelham?"

"Yes."

The answer was even, unhesitating; she betrayed herself with a hand half raised to her hair. Todhunter had already noticed it. Damp tendrils curling around her ears broke its smooth sweep. She continued almost without a break, "If you mean by home, the grounds outside, I like snow and I walked about in it for a while, around the lawns."

Without comment, Todhunter turned to the nurse. "Mrs. Casserly, were you out—we're asking these questions because we're anxious to find someone who might have seen the man who shot the doctor."

Mrs. Casserly said, "Oh, yes, I was out. I always go out before I go to bed, rain or shine, winter or summer. I did hear something. I went around the block, and as I was turning out of Highland place, that's the doctor's street, into Evergreen, I heard what sounded like a shot. I thought it was a car backfiring."

She was either very bold or she was telling the truth. She placed the time at 20 to 11, and put herself practically on the spot.

Todhunter asked Regina to let him know if and when she heard from Henry Trout and said goodnight.

Back at the inn which he just barely made, as the snow was thigh deep in places, he went to a telephone booth in the darkened lobby and called the inspector.

"Redgate," McKee exclaimed, and listened without further interruption until Todhunter finished. "No taxi?" he asked. Todhunter said Trout hadn't called one from the inn. "Maybe he got a lift off the Hill, inspector." McKee said yes. "We'll try and get a line on Trout if he did come down to New York. You can't do anything more there tonight. Go to bed and get some sleep—you may be going to need it. I'll join you tomorrow."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — The Polyanna spirit and atmosphere generated by the Eisenhower Administration's friendly attitude toward private business and industry was highlighted dramatically here a few days ago. F.D.R.'s "economic royalists" have become Ike's "economic captives," and they revel in their changed status.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, veteran director of economic research for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, predicted a period of enduring and unparalleled prosperity. More significantly, his audience of 250 conservative bankers agreed with him. And so do the economic soothsayers at Treasury, the Federal Reserve Board and Department of Commerce.

"The recession is dead," they said, in effect. "Hail the new prosperity."

STATISTICS — These experts supply factual statistics to support their prophesies. But Dr. Schmidt's attitude emphasizes that Eisenhower psychology shares an equal role with fundamental economic evidence as a factor in underlying business confidence. Here is why:

The Chamber of Commerce, which occupies a palatial structure across Lafayette Park from the White House, was a hated "citadel of capitalism" to F.D.R., along with the National Association of Manufacturers. The two organizations could see nothing good in Roosevelt or Harry S. Truman.

They condemned New Deal economic and social reforms, sometimes extravagantly, indiscreetly, unthinkably. They denounced especially those features which fell heaviest on business—heavy spending, high taxes, a swollen public debt, an unbalanced budget, excessive foreign aid and the New Dealer's general indifference to prudent housekeeping!

Roosevelt used to say that they yearned for a return to "Mark Hanna-William McKinley days." Truman called them "greedy capitalists" and 'wolves of Wall Street.' Both maintained a magnificent doghouse and long leashes for businessmen and industrialists and bankers.

IKE'S ATTITUDE—The ironic aspect of Dr. Schmidt's present-day praise is that virtually under Eisenhower, with the exception of his more understanding attitude toward and encouragement of private enterprise.

As conservative Republicans growl, Eisenhower has not scrapped a single major New Deal reform — Social Security, the National Labor Relations Board, benefit payments to farmers, expenditures for conservation, foreign aid, federal financing of health, educatiion, highways, etc. In certain respects he has expanded them.

Nor has he improved the national finances to any great extent. Allowing for increased income, people are paying as heavy taxes now as they did before Eisenhower, despite a $7 billion reduction. The public debt has gone up, not down. The budget is far from balanced, and even the need for equalizing income and outgo has been questioned in high places.

HIGH HOPES—And yet, Dr. Schmidt anticipates that 1955 will turn out to be "the best year in our history." He cites such basic barometers as record highs in automobile production and sales, construction, steel and electric power output, strong consumer demand, purchasing power and savings. He notes that billions will be spent for constructive purposes by the government (federal, state and local) and by private industry.

His long-range outlook is even rosier. He believes that stock market prices in five years will be 100 points higher than they are now. Based on earnings, the market is not too high, in his opinion. He anticipates a work-week of only four days, due to productive efficiency of "automation." He argues that "semi-human" machines will create more jobs than they displace.

CONFIDENCE — Eisenhower alone, of course, is not responsible for Dr. Schmidt's current opinion or for the new role of F. D. R.'s "economic royalists" and Truman's "greedy capitalists." But the President is given credit by these erstwhile Cassandras for breathing new confidence and hope in the creative forces and figures of American finance, business and industry.

Mahatma Gandhi, who revived the peoples of India, racially complex to a strong sense of freedom, always took the position that he opposed race; yet every position he took increased sense of race among all the racial groups in Asia. K. R. Kripalani, discussing the relations of Gandhi and the great Indian poet, Tagore, wrote:

"Though Gandhi had become the spearhead of Indian nationalism and Tagore was looked upon as the prophet of internationalism, Gandhi's mission of liberation embraces the entire humanity, and Tagore's love of his country was as deep-rooted and as intense as Gandhi's. 'I am wedded to India,' says Gandhi, 'because I believe absolutely that she has a mission for the world. My religion has no geographical limits. I have a living faith in it, which will transcend even my love for India herself.' Again: 'For me, patriotism is the same as humanity. I am patriotic because I am human and humane. . .'"

In Asia, patriotism and race are identical. That is why it had to be that as soon as freedom came to India, it had to split up. It had to become two countries, India and Pakistan, with Kashmir outside of each and the Pathans trying to organize a state of their own.

Sore Throat and Cough, Symptoms of Bronchitis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FEW of us go through the year without a case of bronchitis. In fact, this is one of the most common diseases of the respiratory tract.

Usually, acute bronchitis follows a cold. Your windpipe and the large and medium-sized bronchi become inflamed. The bronchi are branches which spread from the windpipe like the branches of a tree and distribute air to your lungs.

Various Irritants

While various irritants, such as sand or household dust, may cause this inflammation, infection is usually to blame. A sore throat and a barking cough generally are the first symptoms. At the beginning, your cough will be painful because there is little expectoration at this stage.

After a day or two, your sputum will become more plentiful and your cough will become much easier. Acute bronchitis is seldom a serious disease, except for the very young or the very old when there is more chance of the smaller tubes becoming blocked with secretions. This could result in bronchopneumonia.

Take to Your Bed

The best thing to do is to go to bed and keep warm. Keep all the windows in the room closed. Remain in bed at least until two days after your temperature has returned to normal. A steam vaporizer will relieve the feeling of rawness in your chest. Hot saline gargles will help your throat.

Drink plenty of hot fruit drinks, as much as five pints a day. Your doctor probably will advise a cough mixture to relieve your cough. An alkaline expectorant may help you cough up more sputum.

Penicillin Prescription

If your case is severe, your doctor might prescribe penicillin which may be sprayed from an atomizer. Injections of penicillin also might help.

If your child is stricken with bronchitis, keep him isolated from the rest of the family. And wash your hands and face every time you leave the patient. Symptoms usually subside after a week and he'll probably be fully recovered within two weeks.

Chronic bronchitis is something else again, and I may have more to say about that later.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

What can I do for pinworms, and are they dangerous?

Answer: Pinworms are brought into the body probably by water or food. Treatment consists in the use of such drugs as methylene blue or similar substances given by mouth under the direction of a physician.

The fingernails should be cut short, underpants worn at night if there is itching about the opening of the rectum, and the hands washed before eating and after going to the toilet.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

ANDRUS was down on the walk a couple of yards from the steep steps when he all but ran into Barry Lofting. It disconcerted him. How long had Lofting been around, how much had he heard, seen—and why was he on foot?

Andrus asked, "Where's your car?" Lofting said it was over at the inn. "Some storm. I was afraid I'd get stuck. I'm going to stay at the inn for the week end anyhow." He made a movement to pass.

Andrus said, "There's no use your going into the house now; Susan's going to bed with a headache, and Regina feels miserable and doesn't want to see anyone. Come on back to the inn with me and I'll buy you a drink and give you the latest on our friend, Mr. Trout." The two men moved off into the storm.

Later that night David Redgate was shot.

The medical examiner, Parr, was the only other doctor who lived on the Hill. Parr's telephone rang at shortly after 11 o'clock. It was Amy Redgate, crying out in an anguished voice that she had just found her brother lying in a pool of blood and she couldn't get a pulse. "Hurry, doctor, hurry." Parr called the police, and grabbed a bag.

Redgate was sprawled on the floor of his study unconscious. Amy Redgate knelt beside him, tears channeling furrows in her weather-beaten cheeks. After a quick examination Parr was able to reassure her. Redgate wasn't dead, or in any immediate danger of dying. There was what appeared to be a gunshot wound in the right thigh.

The police arrived a few minutes later. The doctor was lifted to a bed in the surgery and, with Amy helping him, Parr went to work. So did officers Dupasse and Baker. Todhunter, who had drifted in with them, hovered on the sidelines.

Half an hour later they had the picture. Redgate had been shot through the open study window with a .22-caliber rifle. No attempt had been made to conceal or carry off the weapon. It was lying in snow-covered bushes close to the window where it had been flung. The rifle belonged to the Redgates. It had hung, with another rifle and two shotguns, on the wall of the little corridor leading to the doctor's waiting room.

Once Amy Redgate knew the brother she adored wasn't going to die, she tried to pull herself together. She said that at around 9 that night she had started down for the rental library on Charles street and had a blowout. There was no garage anywhere near and no phone. A passing motorist had finally helped her put the spare on, but instead of being out half an hour, she'd been away more like two.

Both the Redgates went hunting every year. It was the one vacation the doctor took. "We thought we might be able to get away soon, maybe by the eighth." Amy had had the guns apart and oiled them earlier in the week. They weren't loaded, of course, but the ammunition for them was in a carton on the chest beneath which they hung, ready for packing. The door to Redgate's professional quarters in the east wing was never locked until late. Someone had come in, taken the rifle down, slipped bullets into it, and then gone outside to the open window and pulled the trigger.

There were no footprints, but there wouldn't be. Todhunter made a footprint of his own and timed it; in exactly eight minutes it was completely covered with fresh snow.

David Redgate regained consciousness; he was exhausted from loss of blood and shock but able to talk. He knew precisely when he had been shot. He had come in at around half past 10 and after putting his bag away had gone into the study to read some new stuff on anti-biotics. Before he settled down he had opened the south window, as the room was close, and looked at the clock. The time was 10:40. It was as he was taking the pamphlets he wanted from the bookcase shelf that he had been shot. "Item of interest," he said drily. "A bullet feels like a blow from a fist."

The doctor couldn't think of any reason why anyone should have tried to kill him. He had no angry or disgruntled patients. His evening? After dinner he had worked for a while on a paper he was doing and at shortly before 9 he had gone over to the Wolf Hill Inn in response to a call from Regina Pelham's ex-husband, Henry Trout. He found Trout in bad shape, jittery and complaining of his heart. He was going back to New York that night and wanted something to put him on his feet. Redgate said, "It wasn't his heart, it was alcohol, and plenty of it. I advised him to lay off it for a while and left him some bromides."

Henry Trout was the last person the doctor had seen. Dupasse said, "You had no trouble with Mr. Trout, doctor? I mean, sometimes drunks—"

Redgate said quickly and curtly, "None."

Todhunter slipped away and used the doctor's phone. Henry Trout had already left the Wolf Hill inn. He had paid his bill after dinner, which had been served in his room at 7, but no one knew what time he went, except that it was before 10 o'clock; the chambermaid had done the room over then.

Todhunter hurried to the Pelham house. It was after 12 but there were lights on the first floor. He climbed the steep steps to the porch and rang the bell. A long wait, then a voice called, "Who is it?"

The voice was Regina Pelham's. Todhunter gave his name and Mrs. Pelham opened the door and let him in. He shook snow from his hat and coat in the vestibule. Hall and living room were empty. There was someone in the kitchen. China rattled distantly.

Todhunter said, "Is Mr. Trout here, Mrs. Pelham?"

"Henry?" Her fine eyes opened wide. "Why do you ask?"

Todhunter said in his murmuring voice, "Dr. Redgate was shot a little while ago."

Gripping a chair back, Regina gasped, "Is Dave—dead?"

Before Todhunter could speak, they were joined by Susan Dwight, who came running down the stairs, and Mrs. Casserly coming in from the kitchen. Both women were in robes and slippers. Todhunter told them what had happened. The effect on Susan Dwight and the nurse was almost as strong as on Regina Pelham—in fact, if anything, the nurse was the hardest hit. "No," she gasped, falling back into a chair, "not the doctor." Susan asked, "Is Dave badly hurt, Mr. Todhunter?"

"Badly enough," Todhunter said, "but not fatally. Now, about Mr. Trout—"

Regina Pelham said, "Henry went back to New York. He told me this afternoon that he was going, and said good-by. I believe he's leaving for the west coast tomorrow or the next day." No, he hadn't given any forwarding address, said he'd write.

"Were you home all evening, Mrs. Pelham?"

"Yes."

The answer was even, unhesitating; she betrayed herself with a hand half raised to her hair. Todhunter had already noticed it. Damp tendrils curling around her ears broke its smooth sweep. She continued almost without a break, "If you mean by home, the grounds outside, I like snow and I walked about in it for a while, around the lawns."

Without comment, Todhunter turned to the nurse. "Mrs. Casserly, were you out—we're asking these questions because we're anxious to find someone who might have seen the man who shot the doctor."

Mrs. Casserly said, "Oh, yes, I was out. I always go out before I go to bed, rain or shine, winter or summer. I did hear something. I went around the block, and as I was turning out of Highland place, that's the doctor's street, into Evergreen, I heard what sounded like a shot. I thought it was a car backfiring."

She was either very bold or she was telling the truth. She placed the time at 20 to 11, and put herself practically on the spot.

Todhunter asked Regina to let him know if and when she heard from Henry Trout and said goodnight.

Back at the inn which he just barely made, as the snow was thigh deep in places, he went to a telephone booth in the darkened lobby and called the inspector.

"Redgate," McKee exclaimed, and listened without further interruption until Todhunter finished. "No taxi?" he asked. Todhunter said Trout hadn't called one from the inn. "Maybe he got a lift off the Hill, inspector." McKee said yes. "We'll try and get a line on Trout if he did come down to New York. You can't do anything more there tonight. Go to bed and get some sleep—you may be going to need it. I'll join you tomorrow."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — The Polyanna spirit and atmosphere generated by the Eisenhower Administration's friendly attitude toward private business and industry was highlighted dramatically here a few days ago. F.D.R.'s "economic royalists" have become Ike's "economic captives," and they revel in their changed status.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, veteran director of economic research for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, predicted a period of enduring and unparalleled prosperity. More significantly, his audience of 250 conservative bankers agreed with him. And so do the economic soothsayers at Treasury, the Federal Reserve Board and Department of Commerce.

"The recession is dead," they said, in effect. "Hail the new prosperity."

STATISTICS — These experts supply factual statistics to support their prophesies. But Dr. Schmidt's attitude emphasizes that Eisenhower psychology shares an equal role with fundamental economic evidence as a factor in underlying business confidence. Here is why:

The Chamber of Commerce, which occupies a palatial structure across Lafayette Park from the White House, was a hated "citadel of capitalism" to F.D.R., along with the National Association of Manufacturers. The two organizations could see nothing good in Roosevelt or Harry S. Truman.

They condemned New Deal economic and social reforms, sometimes extravagantly, indiscreetly, unthinkably. They denounced especially those features which fell heaviest on business—heavy spending, high taxes, a swollen public debt, an unbalanced budget, excessive foreign aid and the New Dealer's general indifference to prudent housekeeping!

Roosevelt used to say that they yearned for a return to "Mark Hanna-William McKinley days." Truman called them "greedy capitalists" and 'wolves of Wall Street.' Both maintained a magnificent doghouse and long leashes for businessmen and industrialists and bankers.

IKE'S ATTITUDE—The ironic aspect of Dr. Schmidt's present-day praise is that virtually under Eisenhower, with the exception of his more understanding attitude toward and encouragement of private enterprise.

As conservative Republicans growl, Eisenhower has not scrapped a single major New Deal reform — Social Security, the National Labor Relations Board, benefit payments to farmers, expenditures for conservation, foreign aid, federal financing of health, educatiion, highways, etc. In certain respects he has expanded them.

Nor has he improved the national finances to any great extent. Allowing for increased income, people are paying as heavy taxes now as they did before Eisenhower, despite a $7 billion reduction. The public debt has gone up, not down. The budget is far from balanced, and even the need for equalizing income and outgo has been questioned in high places.

HIGH HOPES—And yet, Dr. Schmidt anticipates that 1955 will turn out to be "the best year in our history." He cites such basic barometers as record highs in automobile production and sales, construction, steel and electric power output, strong consumer demand, purchasing power and savings. He notes that billions will be spent for constructive purposes by the government (federal, state and local) and by private industry.

His long-range outlook is even rosier. He believes that stock market prices in five years will be 100 points higher than they are now. Based on earnings, the market is not too high, in his opinion. He anticipates a work-week of only four days, due to productive efficiency of "automation." He argues that "semi-human" machines will create more jobs than they displace.

CONFIDENCE — Eisenhower alone, of course, is not responsible for Dr. Schmidt's current opinion or for the new role of F. D. R.'s "economic royalists" and Truman's "greedy capitalists." But the President is given credit by these erstwhile Cassandras for breathing new confidence and hope in the creative forces and figures of American finance, business and industry.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States got in on an act where it wasn't supposed to be playing. It used propaganda on Red China when the Red Chinese were supposed to be making some of their best propaganda.

Secretary of State Dulles suddenly warned about a Chinese airpower buildup opposite Formosa just as the Chinese were anxious to appear as peace-lovers to the 28 other Asian - African nations meeting with them at Bandung, Indonesia.

And President Eisenhower asked Congress for $3½ billion in foreign aid, most of it for Asia, just when the Red Chinese were most eager to win over to their side the other Afro-Asians, or as many as they could influence.

The United States, the Europeans and Russia were not invited to Bandung. The great mass of people represented there are colored and impoverished. All have reason to be concerned about war over Formosa.

And, because of their poverty and their desire to get on their economic feet, the help they had received, or hoped to get, from the United States would be a factor in keeping them from too close alliance with Red China.

On Sunday, just before the Bandung meeting opened, Dulles reported the Red Chinese had greatly intensified their airpower opposite Formosa. Eisenhower followed this quickly with a statement aimed at Bandung.

He said "peace was in grave jeopardy" and that the leaders at Bandung had an "opportunity, at a critical hour, to voice the peaceful aspirations of the peoples of the world and exert a practical influence for peace."

Later in the week Dulles minimized a bit the danger of war over Formosa now. But the statements by him and Eisenhower didn't make it easier for the Chinese at Bandung to look too persuasively peaceful.

And at Bandung two American friends, Iraq and the Philippines, hit Red China with a one-two punch. It seems reasonable to think they discussed with the United States, before they went to Bandung, the role they would play there.

Iraq called communism a new kind of colonialism. The Philippines warned the other Afro-Asians, without mentioning communism, about a new "super-barbarism." The week's events must have had an effect on Chou En-lai, China's foreign minister.

He tore up the speech he had planned to make and delivered another. He took swipes at the United States as a warmonger but protested China's peaceful intentions and said he didn't want to talk about the sore subject of Formosa.

Ban On Car Horns Said Safety Boon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This city's drivers have been told that if they'd shut up, they'd live longer.

A Memphis physician, Dr. Duane Carr, estimated that Los Angeles traffic deaths could be cut 50 per cent by outlawing the sounding of auto horns.

Addressing a one-day symposium on clinical medicine and surgery yesterday, Dr. Carr added: "In Memphis we passed such an ordnance some 15 years ago, and our traffic accidents dropped 50 per cent in no time. The lack of horns means that we have to look where we are going, and not pass another car unless we know it is safe."

Contractor Books Paving Speed Test

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — A test to see how fast a contractor can pave the equivalent of a city block with asphalt will be one of the attractions at the dedication of the Asphalt Institute's new headquarters here.

The Corson-Gruman Co. of Washington will make the attempt May 5. It will have two asphalt spreaders, two rollers, and 14 eight-ton trucks ready to spread asphalt in a 1½-inch layer over a street in front of the new building on the University of Maryland campus.

The company has said it expects to pave it in less than an hour.

Maple Syrup is strictly an American institution. There are Maple trees in other parts of the world, but it is chiefly in America that the stately sugar maple spreads its broad leaves to the sun and stores up a sugar crop worth harvesting commercially.

Twenty-two states produce maple products on a commercial basis but three states—Vermont, New York, and Ohio — produce the largest share of the total.

There are 58 counties in Ohio that produce some maple syrup but Geauga and Portage provide the most. Even though Ohio is not the largest producer of this delicious natural food, the Buckeye State produces some of the finest quality maple syrup found anywhere. The total production last year was 123,000 gallons.

The legendary story of the discovery of maple sugar might make the shopping for and using of maple products more interesting. According to the Encyclopedia of Cookery, an Indian squaw was preparing moose meat for her brave, boiling it in the sweet water that came from a tree near her wigwam.

WHILE THE MEAT boiled, she busied herself with a pair of moccasins. She became so engrossed in her work that she forgot about the meat. When it suddenly occurred to her that her husband's dinner was about to burn up, she was terror stricken. But it was not burned.

Later, she wept for joy, for not only was the moose meat done to a turn, but the sweet water had turned into a brown sirup. She tasted it, and nothing sweeter had ever passed her lips. When her warrior returned, he ate the meat as he had never eaten before.

Like a dutiful husband, proud of his wife's culinary efforts, he went out and told the neighbors. They tapped the tree again for some of the sweet water, and every day was feast day while the sap ran.

The early white settlers in the eastern part of U. S. and Canada found the Indians using maple sugar and it soon became a common article of diet. Pure maple syrup, as we know it today, is a premium product, made by evaporating huge quantities of sugar water that flow from the maple trees in the early spring.

This spring task of tapping is begun while leaves are still heavy underfoot. A half inch hole is driven into the trunk of the tree and the sap is collected in large, galvanized buckets. It takes from 42 to 48 gallons of sugar water to make one gallon of syrup.

THE EVAPORATING process is a slow and painstaking one, requiring constant attendance so that the syrup can be drawn off at just the right moment. "Syruping off" temperature is approximately 219 degrees Fahrenheit.

Most of Ohio's pure maple syrup is sold at the point where it is produced—namely at the farm with a "sugar bush', as the maple woods is called. The long low sheds with open cupalos on the roof are called "sugar camps" and it is here that the evaporating process is carried on.

Now is the best time to buy your maple syrup. It comes in many different containers—from a gallon can to a small glass jar. If you buy your maple syrup in the grocery store, be sure to read the label on the can or jar. Many so-called "maple syrups" are not pure maple — but only mixtures of approximately 15 to 25 percent maple syrup with the balance being cane sugar syrup.

Of course, pure maple syrup is higher in price than the blended mixtures—but the flavor and quality are unmatched by any of the substitutes. If you want to buy it by the gallon or half-gallon you may want to open it, heat it to the boiling point and seal it in glass jars. Then only a small amount is open at one time and the rest will keep its good quality.

Poured on hot cakes or waffles with butter, pure maple syrup adds a crowning glory to this great American treat. Add a glass of rich, whole milk and you have a breakfast for a king—and you can be the king or queen.

RESPONDING TO A CALL, this fire truck collided with an automobile in Philadelphia and burst into flames. The vehicle then crashed into three parked cars and a pole which smashed through a building wall. The driver of the car was killed and his wife and five firemen were injured. (International Soundphoto)

These Days

It will be this sense of race that Communist China will face in Asia as the British faced it since Clive. For whereas the Chinese have always regarded themselves as the superior of all races, the oldest civilization on Earth, the Sons of Han, with whom none could compare, many of the other races of Asia decline to recognize such a sense of superiority.

It will be something to note when the "humanitarian" Nehru and the Marxist Chou En-lai, who theoretically believe in a raceless world, vie for the control of Asia through racial emphasis.

For it is the struggle between India and Red China for supremacy that must come out of the Bandung Conference. Here Hindu, Chinese, Mongolian, Arab line up the races of Asia on a doctrine that differences do not divide; that there is strength and the prospect of unity in hatred for the so-called "white man," in revenge for centuries of umbrage at the hands of newcomers.

Such a concept can let loose a scourage that can last for centuries and that can force upon the Europeans and Americans—the Westerners, in short—decades of defensive necessity.

The crocodile was worshiped in some parts of ancient Egypt and despised as evil in other parts. This often led to serious feuds between neighboring towns.

Albers-Colonial Merger Vote Set

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Stockholders of Colonial Stores, Inc., will be asked to approve a merger of the firm with Albers Supermarket, Inc., in a meeting May 10.

The Albers chain comprises 6 stores, 59 located in Ohio, Colonial's operations are in the South.

Colonial stockholders will be asked to increase authorized common stock to 1,300,000 shares. The present stock authorization is a million shares of common stock at $2.50 par value.

Each of Alber's 309,807 shares of no par common stock would be converted into 1¼ shares of Colonial's common stock under the proposed merger agreement.

Runaway Cars Tear Up Track

CLEVELAND (AP)—Workmen yesterday cleared a torn-up section of the Pennsylvania Railroad's main line to Pittsburgh while officials of the carrier sought to learn what caused a string of empty gondolas to break loose.

Spokesmen for the railroad said no employes were scheduled on duty in the suburban Bedford yards Tuesday night when the wreck occurred, derailing 38 cars.

A string of 121 freight cars, kept in the Bedford yard for hauling iron ore brought in on lake freighters, broke loose about 7:30 p. m., rolled westward downgrade for about a quarter mile and battered a string of 67 empty gondolas sitting on a sidetrack adjacent to two tracks of the main line.

Single Shot Health Drives Hit By Medics

Dayton Doctors Praise Salk Vaccine, But Rap One-Disease Emphasis

CINCINNATI (AP) — A group of Dayton doctors, in a resolution praising the Salk polio vaccine, criticizes sharply the publicity boomed by national health foundations for a single disease "out of proportion to the importance of the disease."

This problem, they said in a resolution submitted to the Ohio State Medical Assn., is becoming more acute as "single disease" health agencies "increase in number and size."

The resolution, to be considered by the association's House of Delegates Friday, was presented by Dr. D. L. Light for the Montgomery County Medical Society.

The Dayton - area physicians praised the polio vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk of Pittsburgh. They noted they had participated in Salk tests in 1954 and are pledged to cooperate in the forthcoming inoculation program.

While they did not criticize the National Foundation for Infantile Parlysis by name, they did blast certain practices they said were indulged in by some national health foundations. They warned the foundations are competing to "channel funds away from less dramatic but more deserving health problems."

They said they did not like widespread promotion of a proposed health project before medical approval is secured. With such promotion and publicity, they said, the pressure for a medical stamp of approval is "making objectives scientifice appraisal virtually impossible."

They also criticized the "promotion of mass medicine" involving prevention, diagnosis and treatment of a "single disease" without regard to the "whole patient." This they called a condition detrimental to the "establishment of a sound patient - physician relationship."

They proposed medical authorities discuss the situation with various national disease groups. One way to test the groups' sincerity of their desire to cooperate, the physicians suggested, was the health associations' willingness to band together on the local community level for a united health fund drive, such as Community Chest.

Frozen Semen Used In County For First Time

Another milestone in the breeding and development of better dairy cattle in Pickaway County was marked when James Courtright, technician for the Central Ohio Breeding Association, recently started using frozen semen on a county-wide basis.

Frozen semen is a recent development in the artificial insemination industry, according to R. S. Swenson, county agent. It enables breeding associations to offer its members a special mating service that heretofore has been impossible.

It enables production of better cattle from a few very surerior sires. Actually it is possible for a bull to sire calves long after he has gone by way of the butcher's block.

Single Shot Health Drives Hit By Medics

Dayton Doctors Praise Salk Vaccine, But Rap One-Disease Emphasis

CINCINNATI (AP) — A group of Dayton doctors, in a resolution praising the Salk polio vaccine, criticizes sharply the publicity boomed by national health foundations for a single disease "out of proportion to the importance of the disease."

This problem, they said in a resolution submitted to the Ohio State Medical Assn., is becoming more acute as "single disease" health agencies "increase in number and size."

The resolution, to be considered by the association's House of Delegates Friday, was presented by Dr. D. L. Light for the Montgomery County Medical Society.

Dodgers Near Major Loop Win Record

Only Robin Roberts In Way Of 10th Win For Brooklyn Crew

By The Associated Press

So now the Brooklyns have won themselves nine straight games. And all they have to do to take No. 10 (the one that would set a modern major league record for consecutive victories at season's start) is beat a gent named Robin Roberts today.

The streak has been getting tougher and tougher for the Dodgers and this afternoon's game at Ebbets Field may be the toughest yet. Roberts, the best righthander in baseball, hasn't had too much success against the Brooks in the past, but this time the Philadelphia ace is off to his best start in four years.

Robin is 2-0 thus far, beating the world champion New York Giants twice. Both decisions were by 4-2 counts, and only two of the Giants' runs were earned.

That sort of a push off in his bid for a sixth straight season of 20 or more victories may turn the tide for Roberts against the Brooks. Robin is only 17-21 lifetime vs the Dodgers.

For a time last night, it looked like the Brooks wouldn't have any streak for Roberts to challenge. They were shut out on one hit by Steve Ridzik for 7 2-3 innings. But then he tired and walked in a run that sent the Dodgers off on a three-run inning and a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

It was pitching weakness by the opposition, too, that snapped a string yesterday. The Baltimore Orioles made the best of Bob Grim's wildness and a two-run homer by Hal Smith to beat the New York Yankees 6-3 and win their first decision of the American League season. They had lost six.

In the only other AL game, league-leading Boston beat Washington 1-0 on Willard Nixon's five-hitter. The Chicago at Detroit game was rained out.

In the National, St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 3-0 and Milwaukee clipped Chicago 9-5. Winless Pittsburgh was leading the Giants 3-0 when rain halted play after three innings.

Wood Memorial Due Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — Battle lines were drawn and arguments between supporters of Summer Tan and Nashua waxed hotter today as the time approached for their momentous duel in the $100,000 added Wood Memorial Saturday.

Almost forgotten is the fact that only three other 3-year-olds are expected to start in the mile and one eighth event that has sent blood pressures scurrying especially with the Kentucky Derby only two weeks off.

Some oddsmakers are making Summer Tan the 7-10 choice with Nashua second choice at 4-5.

Ohioan Is Fifth In ABC Singles

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Joe Voros of Canton, Ohio, today holds fifth place in singles competition and seventh in all-events at the American Bowling Congress.

His 701 singles total is 37 pins behind leader Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee. All - events leader Frank Bujack of Detroit with 1,993 points is 72 pins ahead of Voros. Ed Markulis of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, is second in all-event competition with 1,960.

Tribe Braced For 16-Game Home Stand

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are resting before starting a 16-game home stand against Detroit tomorrow night. They finished their first road trip a game-and-a-half out of first place.

Cleveland's pitching, supposed to be the best in the league, hasn't hit its stride yet. On the road, the Indians won four and lost three league games, then dropped an exhibition against their Indianapolis farm club last night, 12-10.

Early Wynn and Hal Newhouser made their first appearances on the mound for Cleveland since the season started. Wynn, sidelined for two weeks by the flu, gave up 10 runs in five innings.

Indianapolis, defending champions of the American Association, scored six runs against the big righthander in the second inning, all unearned because of an error by Sam Dente. The rally included a three-run homer by Rocky Colavito, rookie outfielder the Indians had optioned to Indianapolis.

In the fourth, the farmhands scored four more runs against Wynn, three of them on a homer over the scoreboard by rookie catcher Earl Averill.

Newhouser, who had been having trouble getting his arm in shape, gave up only three hits in three innings. But Indianapolis got two unearned runs against him, the margin of victory, in the eight.

Otterbein Signs New Grid Coach

Agler replaces Harry Ewing, head coach since 1934, who will remain at the school as athletic director and track coach.

Columbus Among Winners In IL

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Columbus Jets, Toronto Maple Leafs, Montreal Royals and Havana Sugar Kings are off to flying starts in the infant 1955 International League season.

Toronto turned in a heavy-hitting performance in defeating the Syracuse Chiefs, 7-5.

Columbus, which made its debut in the league after 52 years in the American Association by replacing the Ottawa Athletics, nipped the Rochester Red Wings, 6-5.

The Royals and Sugar Kings made it two straight over the Richmond Virginians and Buffalo Bisons, respectively. Montreal had to go 12 innings to edge Richmond, 3-2, and Havana tallied two runs in the ninth inning to win 4-3.

Card Rookies Find Redlegs Soft Touch

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two rookie pitchers from St. Louis had no trouble last night solving the riddle of Cincinnati hitting. The Cardinals blanked the Redlegs, 3-0.

Luis Arroyo, a 27-year-old lefthander from Penuelas, Puerto Rico, was making his first start as a major league pitcher. But he hurled fast balls and curves like a veteran. Arroyo permitted only five hits, all in the first four innings.

He was a bit wobbly in the first frame when he gave up a single to Johnny Temple, a wild pitch, and a walk to Wally Post. But the lefty settled down and from the fourth to the seventh he retired 11 Redlegs in a row. Then his pitches started to miss the corner of the plate. With two out in the seventh, he walked two straight pinchhitters before getting Temple out.

In the eighth, Arroyo walked two more men and Manager Eddie Stanky brought in Herb Moford, Brooksville, Ky., righthander. Moford had no trouble in making Ray Jablonski fly out to finish the eighth. In the ninth, the Reds went down one-two-three.

Art Fowler, charged with his third loss, allowed seven hits, including a homer by Joe Frazier in the fourth inning with Rip Repulski aboard.

Dodgers Near Major Loop Win Record

Only Robin Roberts In Way Of 10th Win For Brooklyn Crew

By The Associated Press

So now the Brooklyns have won themselves nine straight games. And all they have to do to take No. 10 (the one that would set a modern major league record for consecutive victories at season's start) is beat a gent named Robin Roberts today.

The streak has been getting tougher and tougher for the Dodgers and this afternoon's game at Ebbets Field may be the toughest yet. Roberts, the best righthander in baseball, hasn't had too much success against the Brooks in the past, but this time the Philadelphia ace is off to his best start in four years.

Robin is 2-0 thus far, beating the world champion New York Giants twice. Both decisions were by 4-2 counts, and only two of the Giants' runs were earned.

That sort of a push off in his bid for a sixth straight season of 20 or more victories may turn the tide for Roberts against the Brooks. Robin is only 17-21 lifetime vs the Dodgers.

For a time last night, it looked like the Brooks wouldn't have any streak for Roberts to challenge. They were shut out on one hit by Steve Ridzik for 7 2-3 innings. But then he tired and walked in a run that sent the Dodgers off on a three-run inning and a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

It was pitching weakness by the opposition, too, that snapped a string yesterday. The Baltimore Orioles made the best of Bob Grim's wildness and a two-run homer by Hal Smith to beat the New York Yankees 6-3 and win their first decision of the American League season. They had lost six.

In the only other AL game, league-leading Boston beat Washington 1-0 on Willard Nixon's five-hitter. The Chicago at Detroit game was rained out.

In the National, St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 3-0 and Milwaukee clipped Chicago 9-5. Winless Pittsburgh was leading the Giants 3-0 when rain halted play after three innings.

Wood Memorial Due Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — Battle lines were drawn and arguments between supporters of Summer Tan and Nashua waxed hotter today as the time approached for their momentous duel in the $100,000 added Wood Memorial Saturday.

Almost forgotten is the fact that only three other 3-year-olds are expected to start in the mile and one eighth event that has sent blood pressures scurrying especially with the Kentucky Derby only two weeks off.

Some oddsmakers are making Summer Tan the 7-10 choice with Nashua second choice at 4-5.

Ohioan Is Fifth In ABC Singles

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Joe Voros of Canton, Ohio, today holds fifth place in singles competition and seventh in all-events at the American Bowling Congress.

His 701 singles total is 37 pins behind leader Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee. All - events leader Frank Bujack of Detroit with 1,993 points is 72 pins ahead of Voros. Ed Markulis of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, is second in all-event competition with 1,960.

Tribe Braced For 16-Game Home Stand

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are resting before starting a 16-game home stand against Detroit tomorrow night. They finished their first road trip a game-and-a-half out of first place.

Cleveland's pitching, supposed to be the best in the league, hasn't hit its stride yet. On the road, the Indians won four and lost three league games, then dropped an exhibition against their Indianapolis farm club last night, 12-10.

Early Wynn and Hal Newhouser made their first appearances on the mound for Cleveland since the season started. Wynn, sidelined for two weeks by the flu, gave up 10 runs in five innings.

Indianapolis, defending champions of the American Association, scored six runs against the big righthander in the second inning, all unearned because of an error by Sam Dente. The rally included a three-run homer by Rocky Colavito, rookie outfielder the Indians had optioned to Indianapolis.

In the fourth, the farmhands scored four more runs against Wynn, three of them on a homer over the scoreboard by rookie catcher Earl Averill.

Newhouser, who had been having trouble getting his arm in shape, gave up only three hits in three innings. But Indianapolis got two unearned runs against him, the margin of victory, in the eight.

Otterbein Signs New Grid Coach

Agler replaces Harry Ewing, head coach since 1934, who will remain at the school as athletic director and track coach.

Columbus Among Winners In IL

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Columbus Jets, Toronto Maple Leafs, Montreal Royals and Havana Sugar Kings are off to flying starts in the infant 1955 International League season.

Toronto turned in a heavy-hitting performance in defeating the Syracuse Chiefs, 7-5.

Columbus, which made its debut in the league after 52 years in the American Association by replacing the Ottawa Athletics, nipped the Rochester Red Wings, 6-5.

The Royals and Sugar Kings made it two straight over the Richmond Virginians and Buffalo Bisons, respectively. Montreal had to go 12 innings to edge Richmond, 3-2, and Havana tallied two runs in the ninth inning to win 4-3.

Card Rookies Find Redlegs Soft Touch

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two rookie pitchers from St. Louis had no trouble last night solving the riddle of Cincinnati hitting. The Cardinals blanked the Redlegs, 3-0.

Luis Arroyo, a 27-year-old lefthander from Penuelas, Puerto Rico, was making his first start as a major league pitcher. But he hurled fast balls and curves like a veteran. Arroyo permitted only five hits, all in the first four innings.

He was a bit wobbly in the first frame when he gave up a single to Johnny Temple, a wild pitch, and a walk to Wally Post. But the lefty settled down and from the fourth to the seventh he retired 11 Redlegs in a row. Then his pitches started to miss the corner of the plate. With two out in the seventh, he walked two straight pinchhitters before getting Temple out.

In the eighth, Arroyo walked two more men and Manager Eddie Stanky brought in Herb Moford, Brooksville, Ky., righthander. Moford had no trouble in making Ray Jablonski fly out to finish the eighth. In the ninth, the Reds went down one-two-three.

Art Fowler, charged with his third loss, allowed seven hits, including a homer by Joe Frazier in the fourth inning with Rip Repulski aboard.

NEW FLOOR CARE GIVES WAX THE AIR
Throw away the floor wax, ma'am. Here's something better.
Glaxo, a tip-top coating for linoleum or asphalt tile, covers kitchen floors with a water-clear finish that dries in one hour and lasts for months.
Easy to apply, Glaxo gives a high-luster, non-slip surface that wears and wears. You actually save money over wax — and you keep your colorful floor shiny bright.

NEW FLOOR CARE GIVES WAX THE AIR
Throw away the floor wax, ma'am. Here's something better.
Glaxo, a tip-top coating for linoleum or asphalt tile, covers kitchen floors with a water-clear finish that dries in one hour and lasts for months.
Easy to apply, Glaxo gives a high-luster, non-slip surface that wears and wears. You actually save money over wax — and you keep your colorful floor shiny bright.

CHS '9' Loses At WCH 3 To 2 On 4 Errors

Errors again cost Circleville High School a baseball game as the Tigers dropped a 3-2 decison at Washington C. H.

CHS had to face Robinette, WCH'S hurler who pitched a no-hitter against Hillsboro his last time out. But the Tigers jumped to a 2-1 lead on him going into the last of the fourth.

In the last half of that inning, WCH'S Lions sprang two runs across the plate on two Tiger miscues. The winners got their other run on a throwing error.

CHS got two runs in the top of the third on two walks, a double steal and a two-run single by Mike Hosler.

* * *

JIM MCCONNELL struck out seven Lions and walked five. Robinette fanned 12 and issued two bases on ball plus hitting one batter.

The Tigers' South Central Ohio League record is now 1-1. Greenfield leads the league with a lone win and no losses. However, Greenfield and WCH tangle Thursday.

CHS gets a chance at Greenfield next Monday here. Next Friday, CHS travels to Wilmington.

Bobby Thomson Romps For Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bobby Thomson, off to the fastest start of his career, is hammering out the "other" side of the argument in the 1954 trade that brought him to the Milwaukee Braves.

He belted a bases loaded home run in Chicago yesterday to write the biggest rebuttal chapter, as the Braves took their third straight from the Cubs, 9-5.

Zulueta Elated, Defeats Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — "For the championship, I take him easy," Cuba's Orlando Zulueta says after winning a 10-round split decision from lightweight champ Jim Carter.

Carter, whose title wasn't at stake in last night's bout over a national television hookup, didn't have a word to say. But his manager, Willie Ketchum, made up for it: "What a lousy decision!"

Here's how the first was scored: Referee Harry Volkman, 96-93 for Zulueta; Judge Joe Bunsa, 97-94 for Zulueta; Judge Benny Alperstein, 97-93 for Carter.

Trotters Release 'Goose' Tatum

CHICAGO (AP) — Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, has given Reece (Goose) Tatum, the team's veteran clowning center, his unconditional release.

"Tatum was suspended last month because of repeated violations of team rules and regulations," Saperstein said.

Saperstein's decision ends 14 years of association between him and the loose, long-armed Tatum, who reportedly, was being paid $53,000 annually for his services.

Santee Primed For Miracle Mile

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Wes Santee, America's greatest distance star, says he feels the 4-minute mile will be within his grasp Saturday if weather conditions are good.

The long-legged lad from the plains of western Kansas hopes to beat the world record of 3:58, set by Australia's John Landy last year, in the 30th Kansas Relays.

The only other man to run the mile in less than 4 minutes is Dr. Roger Bannister of London who had a 3:59.4.

"I think I'm ready to unwrap a good one if the weather is right," Santee said today.

CHS '9' Loses At WCH 3 To 2 On 4 Errors

Errors again cost Circleville High School a baseball game as the Tigers dropped a 3-2 decison at Washington C. H.

CHS had to face Robinette, WCH'S hurler who pitched a no-hitter against Hillsboro his last time out. But the Tigers jumped to a 2-1 lead on him going into the last of the fourth.

In the last half of that inning, WCH'S Lions sprang two runs across the plate on two Tiger miscues. The winners got their other run on a throwing error.

CHS got two runs in the top of the third on two walks, a double steal and a two-run single by Mike Hosler.

* * *

JIM MCCONNELL struck out seven Lions and walked five. Robinette fanned 12 and issued two bases on ball plus hitting one batter.

The Tigers' South Central Ohio League record is now 1-1. Greenfield leads the league with a lone win and no losses. However, Greenfield and WCH tangle Thursday.

CHS gets a chance at Greenfield next Monday here. Next Friday, CHS travels to Wilmington.

Bobby Thomson Romps For Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bobby Thomson, off to the fastest start of his career, is hammering out the "other" side of the argument in the 1954 trade that brought him to the Milwaukee Braves.

He belted a bases loaded home run in Chicago yesterday to write the biggest rebuttal chapter, as the Braves took their third straight from the Cubs, 9-5.

Zulueta Elated, Defeats Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — "For the championship, I take him easy," Cuba's Orlando Zulueta says after winning a 10-round split decision from lightweight champ Jim Carter.

Carter, whose title wasn't at stake in last night's bout over a national television hookup, didn't have a word to say. But his manager, Willie Ketchum, made up for it: "What a lousy decision!"

Here's how the first was scored: Referee Harry Volkman, 96-93 for Zulueta; Judge Joe Bunsa, 97-94 for Zulueta; Judge Benny Alperstein, 97-93 for Carter.

Trotters Release 'Goose' Tatum

CHICAGO (AP) — Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, has given Reece (Goose) Tatum, the team's veteran clowning center, his unconditional release.

"Tatum was suspended last month because of repeated violations of team rules and regulations," Saperstein said.

Saperstein's decision ends 14 years of association between him and the loose, long-armed Tatum, who reportedly, was being paid $53,000 annually for his services.

Santee Primed For Miracle Mile

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Wes Santee, America's greatest distance star, says he feels the 4-minute mile will be within his grasp Saturday if weather conditions are good.

The long-legged lad from the plains of western Kansas hopes to beat the world record of 3:58, set by Australia's John Landy last year, in the 30th Kansas Relays.

The only other man to run the mile in less than 4 minutes is Dr. Roger Bannister of London who had a 3:59.4.

"I think I'm ready to unwrap a good one if the weather is right," Santee said today.

Roads In Pickaway County Still Being Littered With Refuse

Farmers Asked To Tie, Cover Loads Of Hay

'No Dumping' Signs Are Being Supplied By County Engineer

More reports of Pickaway County highways being littered with refuse have reached the sheriff's office here.

Signs which warn against littering are being posted in the most affected areas. The signs are being supplied by county engineer Henry McCrady's office.

Violators have repeatedly used Pickaway County roads as a dumping ground, according to local officials. And refuse isn't the only item under watch.

State Highway patrolmen have continually asked farmers to tie their hay securely and even cover their load before going out on the highway. One hay wagon dumped straw along Route 23 near Belle Siding and most the way into Circleville.

* * *

EVEN THE STATE highway department has declared an all-out war on roadside trash. Highway Director S. O. Linzell said thousands of dollars are spent each year by the Division of Operations because of the untidy habits of some motorists and their passengers.

"Besides being a bad habit," continued Linzell, "this is a violation of existing State laws." Section 3767.20 of the Revised Code of Ohio states:

"No person shall place or dispose of in any manner any garbage, waste, or peelings of vegetables or fruits, rubbish, ashes, cans, bottles, wire, paper, cartons, boxes, parts of automobiles, wagons, furniture, glass oil, or anything else of an unsightly or unsanitary nature along or near or on any public road, street, parkway, parkland adjoining any public road or highway or ditch, except on land provided by a zoning commission, city ordinance, or other governmental authority, unless directed to do so by public officials on special cleanup days.

C. W. McCaughey, deputy director of operations, added that the dumping of trash along state routes causes expensive damage to mowing equipment.

The highway officials reflected that trashy highways make a poor impression on tourists, and that natives of the state were likely to take more pride and interest in their highways if they were kept neat and clean.

AS A RESULT, the Highway Department will attempt to bring the problem before the Ohio public through a publicity campaign.

Linzell concluded that "if this doesn't work, then the Highway Department will have to resort to stringent enforcement of the anti-trash law. Success in this program will not only clean up the highways, but will save the department some money."

West, Reds Agree In U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The West and Russia have united in the Security Council to postpone action on Israel's demand that Egypt be condemned for recent border clashes between the two Holy Land neighbors.

Members of the 11-nation council agreed that progress was being made toward border pace. Council president Arkady A. Sobolv of Russia said no action by the group was called for at present.

The council discussed a report from the U. N. truce chief in Palestine, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns. He outlined steps taken so far to ease tension along the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

Sales Show Climb In Savings Bonds

Sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Pickaway County during March totaled $90,400, as compared to $44,037 for the same month last year.

Judge William D. Radcliff, chairman of the Pickaway County Savings Bonds Committee, said that, nationwde, the sales of the two bonds set a 10-year record for any three-month period during the first three months of 1955.

Sales of the bonds in Ohio for March were also on the increase, showing a gain of 7.6 percent over March of 1954.

Senate Panel OKs Turnpike Change Bill

Surprise Move Comes As House Kills Quail Shooting Measure

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Senate had before it today a bill to recapture legislative control over future turnpikes.

The Senate Highways Committee, in a 12-minute meeting which was not announced in advance, recommended passage of the bill, 4-2.

Opponents have expressed belief the turnpike bill, sponsored by Senate Highways Chairman David McK. Ferguson (R - Guernsey), would spike attempts to buid more Ohio turnpikes.

The action came only minutes after the House had killed 46-77 a proposal to permit a quail-shooting season in Ohio for the first time in 40 years and the Senate had passed and sent to the House a bill to outlaw the "gypsy" truck unloading racket.

Another controversial measure cleared the House yesterday, a bill to permit fire insurance companies to write casualty insurance, and vice versa. The bill now goes to the Senate where its fate is uncertain.

The Legislature ends its 16th work week today with a Senate vote on a House-approved bill to set $25 to $200 fines for persons who abandon refrigerators of more than 1½ cubic feet capacity where children might have access to them, become trapped and suffocate.

The turnpike bill action was taken on a 4-2 vote with Sens. William Tyrrell (R-Preble) and Stephen Olenick (D-Mahoning) dissenting. Voting with Ferguson were Sens. Fred Danner (R-Summit), Lowell Fess (R-Greene) and Arthur Blake (D-Belmont).

The bill turns over the decision of future turnpike routes, now resting with the governor, to a turnpike committee made up of three senators, three members of the House and one member appointed by the governor.

The bill further provides that after the project is approved by the legislative committee, responsibility for issuing turnpike bonds shall rest with the commission.

Olenick protested the hasty call of the meeting to report the bill out to the Senate floor. Said he: "I believe it is unethical to vote the bill out in this manner."

Fess earlier had said he would vote against recommending the bill for passage. He explained yesterday his favorable vote was "in the spirit of cooperation."

Tyrrell, who had said earlier he would vote to recommend the bill out of committee, said he didn't want his "no" vote interpreted as an endorsement of the turnpike commission's operations.

No Celebration For Adolf Hitler

BERLIN (AP)—East and West Berlin, which almost never see eye to eye, found a common bond yesterday. Neither celebrated Adolf Hitler's birthday.

The Fuehrer would have been 66. Ten years ago he had his last celebration—a modest one—in the shell-rocked bunker beneath the Reichschancellery Garden which only 10 days later became his pyre.

Though most evidence points to Hitler's death by gunshot suicide and the burning of his body in the garden, he is still having a hard time becoming a legal corpse.

The West Berlin courts only recently started proceedings to declare him legally dead.

Roads In Pickaway County Still Being Littered With Refuse

Farmers Asked To Tie, Cover Loads Of Hay

'No Dumping' Signs Are Being Supplied By County Engineer

More reports of Pickaway County highways being littered with refuse have reached the sheriff's office here.

Signs which warn against littering are being posted in the most affected areas. The signs are being supplied by county engineer Henry McCrady's office.

Violators have repeatedly used Pickaway County roads as a dumping ground, according to local officials. And refuse isn't the only item under watch.

State Highway patrolmen have continually asked farmers to tie their hay securely and even cover their load before going out on the highway. One hay wagon dumped straw along Route 23 near Belle Siding and most the way into Circleville.

EVEN THE STATE highway department has declared an all-out war on roadside trash. Highway Director S. O. Linzell said thousands of dollars are spent each year by the Division of Operations because of the untidy habits of some motorists and their passengers.

"Besides being a bad habit," continued Linzell, "this is a violation of existing State laws." Section 3767.20 of the Revised Code of Ohio states:

"No person shall place or dispose of in any manner any garbage, waste, or peelings of vegetables or fruits, rubbish, ashes, cans, bottles, wire, paper, cartons, boxes, parts of automobiles, wagons, furniture, glass oil, or anything else of an unsightly or unsanitary nature along or near or on any public road, street, parkway, parkland adjoining any public road or highway or ditch, except on land provided by a zoning commission, city ordinance, or other governmental authority, unless directed to do so by public officials on special cleanup days.

C. W. McCaughey, deputy director of operations, added that the dumping of trash along state routes causes expensive damage to mowing equipment.

The highway officials reflected that trashy highways make a poor impression on tourists, and that natives of the state were likely to take more pride and interest in their highways if they were kept neat and clean.

AS A RESULT, the Highway Department will attempt to bring the problem before the Ohio public through a publicity campaign.

Linzell concluded that "if this doesn't work, then the Highway Department will have to resort to stringent enforcement of the anti-trash law. Success in this program will not only clean up the highways, but will save the department some money."

West, Reds Agree In U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The West and Russia have united in the Security Council to postpone action on Israel's demand that Egypt be condemned for recent border clashes between the two Holy Land neighbors.

Members of the 11-nation council agreed that progress was being made toward border pace. Council president Arkady A. Sobolv of Russia said no action by the group was called for at present.

The council discussed a report from the U. N. truce chief in Palestine, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns. He outlined steps taken so far to ease tension along the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

Sales Show Climb In Savings Bonds

Sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Pickaway County during March totaled $90,400, as compared to $44,037 for the same month last year.

Judge William D. Radcliff, chairman of the Pickaway County Savings Bonds Committee, said that, nationwde, the sales of the two bonds set a 10-year record for any three-month period during the first three months of 1955.

Sales of the bonds in Ohio for March were also on the increase, showing a gain of 7.6 percent over March of 1954.

Senate Panel OKs Turnpike Change Bill

Surprise Move Comes As House Kills Quail Shooting Measure

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Senate had before it today a bill to recapture legislative control over future turnpikes.

The Senate Highways Committee, in a 12-minute meeting which was not announced in advance, recommended passage of the bill, 4-2.

Opponents have expressed belief the turnpike bill, sponsored by Senate Highways Chairman David McK. Ferguson (R - Guernsey), would spike attempts to buid more Ohio turnpikes.

The action came only minutes after the House had killed 46-77 a proposal to permit a quail-shooting season in Ohio for the first time in 40 years and the Senate had passed and sent to the House a bill to outlaw the "gypsy" truck unloading racket.
